Wreckage of Clipper Examined at Rio de Janeiro

Brazil Officials Seek Explanation of Crash In Which 14 Died, Leaving But 2 Survivors

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The wreckage of a pan-American "Baby Clipper" was believed today to hold the answer to an unexplained crash in which 14 persons were killed yesterday almost within a stone's throw of their destination at the end of a 3,700-mile flight.

Six United States citizens died in the wreck, among them Professor James Harvey Rogers of Yale, an eminent economist and a familiar figure in Washington in the early days of the New Deal. Three of the Americans were crew members.

Only two of the 16 occupants of the two-motored ship survived. Both were rescued by launches of the Brazilian navy arsenal and taken to hospitals.

Two persons who saw the crash as the plane nosed down toward its landing at the end of a flight from Miami, Fla., said it seemed suddenly to slant sharply down and strike a crane on a drydock in the harbor.

The twisted wreckage of the plane was towed today to the Rio de Janeiro airport, where Brazilian officials and Pan-American representatives began a search for clues to the cause of the accident.

One rescue worker said some of the bodies which fell on the dock with one motor were burned. Another said the faces of the passengers in the cabin failed to show signs of pain or anguish.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA 8 a.m. today—Ship reports are not available off the British Columbia coast, but pressure appears relatively low west of Queen Charlotte Islands. Heavy rain has occurred on the north coast, but the weather has been fair, with moderate temperatures in all other parts of this province, and also on the prairies.

Girl in Death Clasp Rescues Drowning Man

Sheila Chambers, 16, Heroine of Thetis Lake Accident Yesterday

Alfred Savage Aids

Sheila Chambers, 16, came within an eyelash of losing her life in Thetis Lake yesterday afternoon when she dived in to rescue Frederick MacPherson, 19, who fastened a death grip on her arm and dragged her under water twice before Alfred Savage rescued both from a skiff.

Miss Chambers, MacPherson, Savage and Eileen Basanta had gone to the lake to spend the day. They rowed to the island in the centre and at 3 in the afternoon put on their bathing suits.

MacPherson, who cannot swim, was the first in the water and as he walked out he stepped in a hole and disappeared. When he came to the surface his struggles were noticed and Miss Chambers hastened to aid him. She dived in but he had gone down a third time before she reached the spot. Sheila dived and MacPherson caught her arm. She dragged him to the surface and shouted for help but was dragged under again and was unable to break the death grip of MacPherson, who is 6 feet 2 inches tall.

Savage pushed out the skiff and grabbed Sheila and seeing MacPherson was unconscious and clinging desperately to the girl, placed Sheila's free hand on the back of the boat and rowed ashore.

It took them some time to break MacPherson's grip, but when this was done Savage applied artificial respiration and it was 15 minutes before there was a sign of life. When he had sufficiently recovered he was taken to his home at 137 Dallas Road, where he resides with his mother, Mrs. M. MacPherson.

Sheila Chambers lives at 116 Gorge Road and when she was six years of age rescued her brother who had fallen overboard from a boat at Kyuquot, on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Alfred Savage resides at 119 Simcoe Street and delivers the Times.

No Move to Upset Gas Price Injunction

The price of gasoline in British Columbia will stand unchanged, at least until September 12, when the Court of Appeal meets.

It was learned on high authority today that the government is not contemplating any move to upset the temporary injunction granted by Chief Justice Archer Martin to restrain enforcement of the gas price cut order until that time.

At one time it was reported a special session of the Court of Appeal might be called to reconsider the Chief Justice's order, but this has been discarded as of little value in the ultimate course of the litigation about the government's price-fixing power.

TWO FIREBOATS FOR VANCOUVER URGED

VANCOUVER (CP)—A special civic committee today recommended an extensive program of expansion in the city's fire department personnel and equipment be undertaken.

Composed of aldermen, civic department heads, railway representatives and underwriters, the 12-man committee recommended that:

Two fire boats be purchased at a cost of $250,000 to aid the J. H. Carlisle in waterfront fire protection.

Immediate strengthening of the fire department personnel of 348 by another 60 men;

Construction of a new headquarters firehall, one district hall and a training school for firemen.

The committee also recommended that no additions to existing wholesale gasoline storage plants within the city be allowed, except in segregated areas designated by the city, and that the council consider drawing up regulations governing shipment of gasoline or other inflammable liquids in containers from the city.

The report noted that addition of fireboats had been under review several times during the last 12 years.

Planes normally taxi on the water after alighting until they are close enough to the passenger landing float to be towed in by rowboat.

The plane was descending just before dark. But the weather was clear and a slight wind was considered not sufficient to have caused any difficulty.

Pan-American announced the following passenger list:

Dead—Prof. James Harvey Rogers, Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

Henrie May Eddy, Gainesville, Fla., acting librarian at the University of Florida.

Robert Landman, 195 Broadway, New York City.

Pablo Levin, an Argentine.

Anton Ommundsen, traffic representative of Panair do Brazil, Pan-American subsidiary.

E. Valens, Belgian exporter of Brazilian diamonds.

Evaristo Miranda, Brazilian.

Edgar Oliveira, Brazilian.

Albert Oliveira Santos, Brazilian, and Lucia Oliveira Santos, his wife.

Crew—Capt. A. A. Person of Miami, pilot, veteran of 1,000,000 miles flown for Pan-American.

Capt. George King of Miami, co-pilot.

Russell Jenkins, radio operator.

Julio Trujillo, steward.

Injured—Oswaldo Hirth, German engineer, broken leg and shock.

Mario Lyra, Brazilian, cut and bruised.

Police Hold Man For Wrecking Train

Prisoner Denies He Derailed Streamliner In Nevada, Killing 19 and Injuring 114

RENO, Nev. (AP)—The wrecking of a $2,000,000 streamliner train, in which 19 and possibly 20 persons perished, sent state, federal and railroad police across Nevada's lonely sagebrush wastes today in search of an earless wrecker suspect.

A man with part of an ear missing, whom Police Chief Andy Welliver said "answers the description" of the "earless man," was arrested in the railroad yard at Sparks, Nev. A Federal Bureau of Investigation agent joined police and railroad investigators in questioning the man, who denied any connection with the wreck.

He gave his name as Bob La Duceur, 28, Lewistown, Montana. William Sked, railroad investigator from Sacramento, Calif., said La Duceur was "sore at railroads" since a train cut off part of his left foot in Montana two years ago.

His pockets were filled with junk, including old papers, rags, a pair of socks, an oily glove and a broken seal taken from a freight car.

Officers said he had denied any knowledge of the train wreck, but would be questioned thoroughly.

WRECKAGE IN CANYON

Centre of the investigation was a narrow, rockbound canyon 250 miles east of Reno, in which the Southern Pacific's "City of San Francisco" was scattered in a mass of wreckage.

Company officials listed the known dead in the tragedy Saturday night at 19 and the injured at 114. They said reports from the scene indicated another body might be in the uncleared wreckage.

Of the 19 known dead, 10 were employees on the train. Seven of these were negroes.

Southern Pacific officials declared there was no question the train—pride of the company's overland line—was deliberately wrecked in the canyon, cut through the hills of central Nevada by the winding Humboldt River, at this season little more than a creek.

Dan O'Connell, head of the Southern Pacific police at San Francisco, hurried to the wreck scene with other company officials.

In his absence, none would comment on the Nevada police search for a man with both ears gone.

GOVERNMENT INQUIRY

Five investigators were dispatched from Washington by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Southern Pacific officials at San Francisco said it now appeared two crow bars found near the tracks and previously considered clues in the investigation were brought there by the wrecking crew.

The officials insisted, however, other evidence showed beyond doubt the rails had been tampered with and the train deliberately wrecked.

A coroner's jury summoned to the scene yesterday found the disaster was caused by "a misplaced rail, misplaced by a person or persons unknown."

ROAD MOVED
Forty-four spikes had been removed from the outside rail of a curve near the approach to a 60-foot bridge over the shallow Humboldt River, where all but four of the 17 cars in the yellow-tan train hurtled off the tracks. An entire 30-foot length of rail had been moved four inches inward and the rail tie plates reshipped to the ties in the new position.

As this evidence of what Assistant Division Superintendent Foley termed "clearly a case of sabotage with murderous intent" was uncovered, Nevada state police asked officers throughout the state to be on the lookout for a man whose ears had been cut off.

Police Chief Andy Welliver of Reno said he was informed this man had been "acting suspiciously" at Fernley, and had inquired yesterday morning at a Fernley garage, "has anything happened?" He was described as 35 years old and weighing 135 pounds.

The streamliner, speeding westward at 50 to 60 miles an hour, piled up at 10:33 p.m. as it was crossing a 60-foot bridge.

The Diesel power cars on the crack limited, on its regularly scheduled 39-hour run from Chicago to San Francisco, carried across the steel bridge by their own momentum, but the derailed baggage car lurched out of control and dragged most of the other cars in a wild topple from the tracks.

SOME of the cars crashed into the bridge, causing it to collapse into the river 15 to 20 feet below. Six of the cars plunged after it in a deafening roar, followed by the eerie cries of the dying and injured, which sent those able to move into a desperate rescue search.

Out of the ghastly scene, where twisted bodies were trapped in the more horribly smashed cars and where many of the injured lay helpless beside the wreckage, arose tales of heroism on the part of several and stout courage and lack of panic on the part of all the survivors.

As an anti-climax the dining-car of the rescue train caught fire on route to Reno. Outside of more shock to nervous passengers, no damage resulted.

SUSPECT TRACED
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Description of a possible suspect in wrecking of the $2,000,000 streamliner train, "City of San Francisco," was furnished police by two young Michigan motorists.

Police said the men, whose names were withheld, related that early Saturday they overheard a drunken railroad man at Wells, Nevada, say:

"The railroad never gave me a break. I've worked as a railroad man since the war, but I never got anything."

The man then showed his feeling by touching a match to his cap and throwing the blazing cap at a Chinese in the restaurant. He sat at a table and talked until another railroad man told him to "keep your mouth shut."

Police were told the man had dark hair, weighed about 160 pounds and wore blue denim.

Wells is a small railroad town in eastern Nevada, east of Elko and about 85 miles from the scene of the wreck.

The Michigan men's report was given additional credence by authorities after Southern Pacific police had reported that W. K. Fraed, Box 80, Alta Loma, Calif., told them that yesterday, a number of hours after the wreck, he noticed a man answering the description of the Wells, Nev. man, at Hazen, Nev., a railroad stop 50 miles east of Reno.

Truce and Danzig Conference of Powers Proposed

Reported Germany And Italy Willing to Join in Conversations

Other Issues Listed

ROME (AP)—Italians outside the government said today Germany and Italy are agreeable to holding a conference with France and Great Britain for settlement of the German claim to Danzig.

The plan was reported to embrace three points,—with settlement of Europe's other economic and colonial expansion problems as the ultimate aim, including the Italian claims on France.

The plan on the basis of these reports would provide for:

1. A 30-day truce in which each power would promise to make no move while the conference was arranged, among the foreign ministers of France, Britain, Italy and Germany.

2. Britain, a guarantor of Poland's security, would transmit the recommendations of the conference to Warsaw with an inquiry as to whether Poland accepted the solution.

3. On Poland's acceptance of the solution, the truce would be prolonged for consideration of Europe's other pending problems.

Confirmation was lacking in official circles.

Spokesmen said nothing was known yet of the outcome of the Salzburg meeting of the Italian and German foreign ministers, Count Galeazzo Ciano and Joachim von Ribbentrop, and their talks with Adolf Hitler.

PARLEY FAILS TO END FERRY STRIKE

Talk at Olympia; Federal Mediator in Seattle Hopeful

A conference at Olympia, Wash., today between Governor C. D. Martin and Capt. Alex M. Peabody, president of the Black Ball Ferry Lines, on the Puget Sound ferry strike, which ended services to Victoria and Sidney, apparently failed to produce any immediate developments, according to advices received here.

Capt. Peabody hurriedly left the governor's office shortly after 11, apparently returning to Seattle, but would make no comment on the ferry situation as a whole, or on the results of his meeting with the chief executive.

The governor said he was continuing attempts to bring about a settlement, but he did not seem any too enthusiastic over the possibility of an immediate agreement.

The chief executive indicated he was working toward something permanent, and with that in mind was in no mood to affect a settlement that might be only short-lived.

MEDIATOR HOPEFUL

SEATTLE (AP)—W. T. Geurts, United States federal labor mediator, said negotiations under way here and at Olympia today might provide "immediate resumption" of Puget Sound ferry service disrupted by an Inland Boatmen's Union strike.

He declined to discuss details of conferences or to define "immediate."

TWO TORONTONIANS BELIEVED MURDERED

TORONTO (CP)—Police today added two more names to the list of mysteriously missing men, and said they thought two of the five on the list were murdered. Police sought Jack Malmtrun, 52, Toronto fruit dealer, and his partner, Ben Fishman, 29, who have been missing for a week.

DAILY DOUBLE BRINGS $10,772

CHICAGO (AP)—The biggest daily double in the history of the United States turf was paid today when Joy Bet and Merry Caroline won the first and second races at Washington Park, paying $10,772.40.

Only one ticket was sold on this combination. The name of the winning ticketholder was not immediately available.

The biggest previous payoff was $7,205.40 at Tropical Park March 18, 1935, on the combination of Wino and Arakay.

Pickers Win First Round in Scrap Incident

Police Ordered to Make Arrests If More Trouble Breaks

Impasse Exists

Wipners of the first round in the scrap-iron incident are the picketers.

Satisfied that no immediate attempt would be made to ship the metal responsible for Saturday's fracas, the Chinese and white sympathizers dispersed from Wharf Street, and all was quiet on the waterfront this morning, with no picketers in evidence at the foot of Yates Street, and but a lone constable on duty.

Pickets, however, were to be seen near the Store Street establishment of the Northern Junk Company, which had contracted to deliver the shipment of scrap to Seattle.

The picketing committee, evidently, has no intention of relaxing its vigilance, but the next move is open to speculation.

Several windows of the warehouse of the company had been broken, police reported.

That the police look for other demonstrations before the dispute is settled is indicated by reports in circulation to the effect that steps had been taken leading to the cancellation of holiday leaves of police officers.

Rumors were set afloat along the waterfront this morning that further attempts would be made by the shippers to send the junk out of the city, paralleled by reports that if such an attempt were made it would be determinedly blocked by the Chinese and their friends.

COMPANY MAY SUE

Another development today was indications that legal action might be taken to recover damages by the local trucking company, whose trucks were put out of commission in the week-end melee.

A. Knowles of Knowles' Cartage, said he had retained Stuart Henderson to look after his interests. He estimated the damage to two of his trucks at $2,500. The tug company which contracted to move the shipment of scrap from this port to Seattle, it is understood, has dissociated itself with the entire affair and will refuse to handle any further shipments.

"I'm not talking," said H. Kramer of the Northern Junk Company, adding "I shall issue a statement later explaining the situation."

J. Stuart Yates, representing the owners of the wharf property, announced over the week-end that he had forbidden the use of the wharf and had ordered the scow removed.

All concerned with shipment and boycott are now marking time.

It is expected that another effort will be made to move the scrap iron and if Chinese attempt to block such a move the police will make arrests.

Police awaited the next move on the issue with instructions from the City Police Commission to arrest anyone who broke the law.

At a special meeting of the commission this morning the commissioners were advised of the provisions of Sections 501 and 502 of the Criminal Code which make it unlawful for anyone to interfere with the loading of a cargo or cause wilful damage to property.

The commission instructed Acting Chief J. H. Rogers that the law was to be carried out and those who broke it were to be arrested.

Meanwhile it was learned negotiations had been carried on between H. Kramer of the Northern Junk Company and the Embargo Council towards peaceful settlement of the dispute. Mr. Kramer, it was understood, has given an understanding that no further scrap iron shipments would be contracted for by him if the present load would not be interfered with.

He pointed out he was legally bound to make the shipment since it was contracted for some time ago. While he was legally within his rights he did not wish to create any disturbance and was willing to undertake no further shipment.

The Embargo Council reply was the matter was out of their hands and they could not undertake to act on behalf of the picketers in a matter which had become a public issue.

MAN KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Telephone Engineer of South Nyack, N.Y., Beats
Daughter With Hammer

SOUTH NYACK, N.Y. (AP)—Speaking through bruised lips, Phyllis Raymond told today the nightmare horror of a midnight assault by her crazed inventor father, who tried to bludgeon her to death with a hammer after fatally hacking her mother.

The father, Ralph Raymond, 58, wealthy telephone engineer, climaxed his fit of madness by slashing his throat with a razor in a locked bathroom of his 14-room home. He died several hours later in a hospital.

His 29-year-old attractive daughter was still so critically weak from 14 hammer blows on the head and face officials had difficulty in getting a coherent account.

District Attorney George Dorsey said the daughter told him she awakened early Sunday on a second-floor sleeping porch when her father entered and began beating her with a hammer.

She fled to the upstairs living-room and saw her mother there staggering and bleeding from throat wounds made with a 14-inch butcher knife later found clutched in Raymond's hand when police broke into the bathroom.

When Mrs. Raymond, socially prominent, collapsed on the hearth, her husband was restored temporarily to sanity. He ran from the room and returned with a bottle of whisky and a tumbler of water.

"Do something to save her," he said, handing them to the daughter.

A moment later, however, he seized the hammer and chased Miss Raymond to an attic, striking her as she ran. She fled back downstairs, and finally wrested the weapon from him.

As she picked up a telephone and called police, he walked into the bathroom, Dorsey said, and cut his throat.

The inventor's son, John, 30, who had been visiting in Staten Island returned home to find his father dying, his mother dead and his sister brutally beaten. He became hysterical and was taken to a hospital.

Injured in Fall

VANCOUVER (CP)—Captain James Griffiths, 78, former commodore of the Seattle Yacht Club and widely-known Pacific coast shipping man, was in a hospital here today with a fractured shoulder suffered in a fall yesterday. Hospital attendants reported his condition "just fair."

Aboard the United States Destroyer Lang (By Wireless) (AP)—President Roosevelt reached Campobello, N.B., aboard the United States cruiser Tuscaloosa at 1.16 p.m. today after being brought to a standstill by heavy fog near the end of his vacation voyage from New York.

The Tuscaloosa and the destroyer, accompanying the cruiser, were forced to anchor for a short time outside the 30-mile long narrow channel leading to Campobello, site of the President's summer home.

Duce Puts Brake on Hitler

Burckhardt's Talks With Fuehrer May Lead
To Negotiations On Danzig

LONDON (CP)—Talks between Hitler and Professor Carl Burckhardt, League of Nations High Commissioner for Danzig, during the week-end were seen by British official-circles today as a possible preliminary to efforts to negotiate the Danzig dispute.

A government spokesman, commenting on Burckhardt's visit to Berchtesgaden, said the High Commissioner now is "in a position to make contacts with the Polish government and the Danzig Senate."

No report on the talks has been received here, but official circles said Burckhardt made the call at Hitler's invitation and it was assumed the Fuehrer must have had some settlement plan to present.

Britain, as a member of the League committee of three responsible for Danzig affairs, was notified confidentially of the invitation a few hours before Burckhardt left Danzig Friday.

It was not known here whether the commissioner saw Count Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister, who also was at Berchtesgaden during the week-end. He was understood to have returned to Danzig today; Ciano returned to Rome yesterday.

The Foreign Office minimized reports Ciano may have laid before Hitler an Italian peace plan and said Britain had not been approached with proposals of a peaceful settlement of Europe's problems.

Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax returned to the Foreign Office after a week-end at his Yorkshire home.

VOICE FOR ALL

In view of the Burckhardt-Hitler talks political observers saw significance in today's editorial of the Times of London, which made several references to the possibility of peaceful settlement of Europe's problems.

Referring to "arbitrary pronouncements of German leaders that such and such a European question is one for Germany alone and must be settled exactly as Germany desires," the Times said:

"There can be no peace in Europe if any one country assumes that impossible attitude toward the rest. The only certain consequences of assuming it is that it will in time band all others against it."

The Times said that if Germany and Italy are seeking "peaceful revision of some of the remaining terms" of the Versailles Treaty they would "no doubt find a general readiness to confer among all the interested states."

"No object could be more worthy of statesmanship today than a peace settlement fully and freely accepted by all the powers concerned," added the newspaper.

The British press generally expressed belief, in the absence of any communiqué following the Salzburg and Berchtesgaden talks of Foreign Minister Count Ciano of Italy with Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop and Fuehrer Hitler, that Premier Mussolini has put a brake on German ambitions.

NATIONALITY MOVE

The London Daily Sketch, Independent, reported that before the Nuremberg Nazi Party congress next month a decree granting German nationality to all Danzig citizens will be passed through the Danzig Senate.

"It was known early yesterday," said the Sketch, "that Ribbentrop had confirmed to Ciano Hitler's decision to pass a decree."

"Ciano made the condition that if the Danzig Senate passed such a decree no step likely to lead to war shall be made without consulting Italy."

"Mussolini is said to be in favor of a five-power conference to settle Danzig once Hitler's initial step has been taken. Hitler is not. But diplomatic opinion believes the Fuehrer has made the above concession to Il Duce. There is a conviction that the Danzig decree will be made before the Nuremberg rally."

"If there is to be any war of nerves it will not be ours that will fall this time," said the Daily Mail, Independent.

German Ambassador Leaves France

PARIS (AP)—The German ambassador, Count von Welzbeck, left precipitately for Berlin last night after the French government had rejected his request a Nazi agent, Otto Abetz, be permitted to re-enter France.

The ambassador went almost directly from a personal interview with Premier Daladier to a train for Berlin.

Burckhardt May Go to London

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN—A Nazi source with unusually good connections with high officialdom said today Prof. Carl V. Burckhardt, League of Nations commissioner for Danzig, has a plan for peaceful settlement of the dispute between Germany and Poland over the Free City.

The scheme, according to this source, calls for the reunion of Danzig with the Reich and for "a direct and guaranteed connection between East Prussia (including Danzig) and Germany proper."

Reichsfuehrer Hitler, Polish Foreign Minister Joseph Beck and Danzig Nazi Leader Albert Forster were said to be acquainted with the plan and to have accepted it as a possible basis for discussion.

This Nazi source said Commissioner Burckhardt was making a secret trip to London to present the plan to Lord Halifax, the British Foreign Minister.

It was only today for the first time that authoritative quarters acknowledged Prof. Burckhardt was in Berchtesgaden last week to see Hitler.

This disclosure came as officials were weighing the results of the week-end conferences among Hitler and the German and Italian foreign ministers in which Germany and Italy were said to have set a joint course of action.

A declaration today on the Danzig issue said that unless it was settled speedily "the European powder barrel may explode."

Deutsche Diplomatisch - Politische Korrespondenz, mouthpiece of the foreign office, said:

"If the stubbornness and insolence of certain powers in regions that do not in any way concern their interest continues, they may be sure that the determination of Germany and Italy will be posed against them."

It could not be learned here whether a "peace plan" by Premier Mussolini of Italy was under discussion at the conferences between Hitler, Foreign Minister Count Ciano of Italy and German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop which ended yesterday.

An official source said "100 per cent agreement on all issues" was reached and that there was no need for further talks.

Ciano returned by airplane last night to Rome, where he reported immediately to Premier Mussolini.

Vancouver Man Drowned On Island

Gordon Pearce, 24-year-old University student, was drowned in the Franklin River near Port Alberni on Saturday, according to B.C. police here. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Pearce of Vancouver.

He was employed as a spark chaser by Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Logging Company, and police said he had apparently been swimming when the accident occurred.

Young Pearce had just recently received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of British Columbia and was spending the summer working at the Vancouver Island port before returning to university to study for his Master of Arts degree.

father. The young princesses, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, were left at the castle.

Try Wider Anti-British Moves

TIENTSIN (AP)—Anti-British leaders in north China opened a three-day conference Monday to consider resolutions calling for such things as an anti-British movement in British colonies and Canada.

The meeting began with parades. It was not likely the demonstrators would attempt to enter the British Concession, blockaded since June 14, but British defence forces were mobilized to meet them at the boundary, if necessary.

One resolution before the conference would make the anti-British campaign a permanent part of the general reconstruction scheme in north China with the object of forcing out all Britons and their interests. Another would establish an "anti-British course in schools."

The flood danger, brought to Tientsin by recent heavy rains, was increased with a rise in the Hai River which carried it over its banks and cut rail lines temporarily.

Later, service was resumed on the Tientsin-Peking railway. A Japanese military spokesman said deadlock in the Tokyo Japanese-British talks and the return to Tientsin of Japan's military delegates had not affected the local situation—that is the blockade restrictions imposed on the British Concession.

He said the army was acting in accordance with a policy which would not be changed before a complete settlement meeting all Japanese desires.

(In Tokyo a foreign office spokesman said the talks with the British representatives could be resumed without the presence of the military delegates "if Britain assures us of her willingness to discuss economic questions.")

The Tientsin spokesman also expressed doubt that a Japanese plane, as previously reported, flew over the British embassy building at Peking, dropping leaflets which said, "Exclude Britain and build up a new order in east Asia."

"It must have been a Chinese kite," he said.

Japanese Papers in China Score Britain

PEIPING (AP)—Taking a cue from the army, the Japanese press today abandoned its pretence that the anti-British movement is "spontaneous."

GAME SEASONS FOR ISLAND GIVEN

Open seasons for game in British Columbia for 1939 were announced at the Legislative Buildings today.

On Vancouver Island the deer season, for mule and coast variety, bucks only, is from September 9 to November 30.

The pheasant season, cocks only, is from October 14 to November 15 on all of the island, except Oak Bay and the Alberni-Nanaimo district lying southwest of Cameron River. On Salt Spring and the Alberni-Nanaimo district southwest of Cameron River, the dates are from October 14 to 31.

Blue grouse are from September 9 to October 31 on the island, and willow grouse from November 1 to 15.

Ducks (except wood and elder), Wilson snipe, coots and geese (except snow geese), from November 18 to January 31 in the islands, Victoria, Esquimalt, Saanich, Cowichan-Newcastle, Alberni-Nanaimo and Comox districts. Snow-geese and black brant are open from December 16 to February 29, band-tailed pigeons from September 9 to September 30.

The quail season on the island is from October 14 to November

U.S. Import Price Of Silver Advances

NEW YORK (AP)—The import price for foreign silver today was boosted to 35¢ cents an ounce, a rise of ½ cent over Saturday.

The advance increased to ½ cent the premium quoted in the trade over the 35 cents an ounce the United States Treasury pays for the white metal. Imported silver went to a premium over the Treasury price last week, the first time since 1937.

In London silver was quoted today at the equivalent of 36.2 cents an ounce in United States currency. A rise of ½ cent over last week.

15, except in Oak Bay and Alberni-Nanaimo southwest of Cameron River. There is no open season on European partridge.

On the first two days of the pheasant and quail season shooting does not start until noon.

Full details of open seasons throughout the province, with bag limits, will be published shortly by the game commission.

SOME PEOPLE ARE ALLERGIC to SELF-APPOINTED CRITICS

But Sweet Caps AGREE WITH EVERYBODY

● Self-appointed critics can do any job—except their own. They're always breathing down somebody's neck to tell him what's wrong, how much better they could do it—and causing a severe pain in that neck.

But Sweet Caps... they've got their own job to do and, oh, how they do it! That job is just to agree—agree with everybody. They're like a kindly word of praise—soothing. They're mellow and fragrant—always welcome—popular everywhere.

Baldwin Says War Depends On Hitler

NEW YORK (AP)—Earl Baldwin, former British Prime Minister, said on his arrival here yesterday that peace or war in Europe "depends on one man—Hitler."

"Hitler has a brilliant mind, but it is abnormal," Lord Baldwin said. "The English as a nation hate war, but it took them a long time to realize there are other people who are different."

Lord Baldwin, who will address a session of the World Congress for Education in Democracy, said his purpose in coming to the United States was to "be helpful" in solving the labor-capital problems of democracy.

AIRPLANE LOST IN ATLANTIC

No Trace of A. Loeb And R. Decker, Nova Scotia to Elre

DUBLIN (CP)—The North Atlantic has claimed its third airplane this year, it became apparent today when the third day passed without word from two American Jews who left St. Peter's, N.S., on Friday morning for Elre.

The airmen, Alexander Loeb, 32, and Richard Decker, 23, flew from Nova Scotia with only enough gasoline for 25 hours. That time limit expired Saturday. Their plane, "Shalom"—Hebrew for peace—was not seen after it left the Newfoundland coast. Observers believed the men encountered engine trouble as weather conditions were most favorable.

NEWSPRINT PRODUCTION

MONTREAL—Canadian newsprint production in July totaled 227,630 tons compared with 240,545 tons in June and 202,546 tons in July, 1938, the newsprint association of Canada announced today.

BABY WITH OUTSIDE HEART PASSES AWAY

After Week of Life Filipino Child Succumbs To Pneumonia

MANILA (AP)—Baby Mary Heart Rafael, born just a week ago with her heart exposed on her chest, died yesterday at 5.25 a.m.

The infant had been in a critical condition because of bronchial pneumonia, and doctors had abandoned hope of saving her.

Since her birth, the baby had been the centre of scientific observation.

Her mother, Mrs. Esperanza Rafael, 24, saw for the first time yesterday the exposed heart of the baby. She had seen her baby twice but each time the heart was covered.

A nurse, wheeling Mrs. Rafael to a new room, paused before the glass-paneled nursery where the child was sleeping and the mother saw the throbbing heart, covered only by a transparent "incubator" which had replaced the stemless cocktail glass at first used to cover it.

The mother looked at the heart for a moment, then bit her lip and turned away.

Canadian Institute Meets in Ontario

Dr. Max Lerner Chief Speaker at Two-weeks' Gathering

GENEVA PARK, Lake Couchiching, Ont. (CP)—Democracy went under the microscope today before an international gathering at this lake resort near Orillia in the annual sessions of the Canadian Institute of Economics and Politics.

Led off by Dr. Max Lerner of Williams College, in an address on "Political Opinion in a Democracy," the two-weeks conference has as its theme "The Crisis of Democracy." Dr. Lerner's recent book, "It Is Later Than You Think," aroused wide comment among students of politics.

Main business of the conference is the study of Canadian affairs, with a glance at such international trends as may affect the Dominion. An imposing array of speakers from Canada and the United States is guaranteed an "open platform" and the main body of students will extend the discussion in the forum after each address.

Other speakers scheduled besides Dr. Lerner are Dr. Hans Simon of the new school for social research, New York, formerly of Berlin; Denton Massey, Conservative M.P. for Toronto; Greenwood; Miss Agnes Macphail, U.F.O. Labor M.P. for Grey-Bruce; Lt. Col. George A. Drew, Ontario, Conservative leader, and G. Raymond Booth, secretary of the Canadian Committee on Refugees.

CRITICS PRAISE NEW SHAW PLAY

In Good King Charlie's Golden Days Offers Philosophical Debate

LONDON (CP)—George Bernard Shaw at 83 startled the critics into panegyrics today with an actionless play offering two hours of philosophical debate which sums up Shavian thoughts of everything from functions of art to the theory of kingship.

The new production, "In Good King Charlie's Golden Days," moves through a long series of drawing-room discussions among such characters as Charles II, his mistress, Nell Gwynn; his wife, Catherine; Isaac Newton, the philosopher; Godfrey Kneller, the painter, and George Fox, founder of the Quakers.

London critics hailed it as "a mental enjoyment," "the reaffirmations of a great man" and as being like "sitting at a dinner party with five good talkers going at it hammer and tongs."

The conversations grandly encompass religion, women, politics, mathematics and science. Newton and Kneller, for instance, set forth the proposition that curves of science and art actually are the same curve viewed from different angles—art and science being two facets of the jewel which is consciousness.

The arguments subside finally with this regal reverie near the end of the play:

"In every nation there are the makings of a capable council and a capable king three or four times over, if only we knew how to pick them. Nobody has found out how to do it; that is why the world is so lively governed. The riddle of how to choose a ruler is still unanswered, and it is the riddle of civilization."

U.S. REARMAMENT WELL UNDER WAY

Air Force, Army And Navy Report Rapid Strides Forward

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States officials reported today that every major phase of the vast new air, land and sea rearmament proposed by President Roosevelt seven months ago is abreast or ahead of schedule.

Provided with $300,000,000 beyond regular funds with which nearly to triple its strength within two years, the air corps was able to report:

Orders placed for more than 2,500 of some 3,500 new planes and engines of all types required to attain the minimum goal of 5,500 aircraft in service by mid-1941.

More than $192,000,000 obligated by contracts already announced, with upwards of $25,000,000 yet to be expended.

Training of 2,100 additional pilots and 19,000 mechanics and other specialists well under way.

Preliminaries cleared away for new bases or depots near Tampa, Fla.; Mobile, Ala.; San Juan, Puerto Rico, and in Panama. Surveys made for bases in the northeast and Alaska.

The army ordnance department, with some $185,000,000 to be expended for new tanks, rifles, artillery and other weapons to correct deficiencies in the regular army and national guard, is preparing to let major contracts, beginning probably next month.

The navy has allocated work on all but two of the 23 new warships for which funds were provided; increasing to 101 the warships and auxiliaries on the ways or under contract.

YOUTH DROWNS AS COMPANIONS WATCH

Tragedy at Calgary Takes Life of Transient From Montreal

CALGARY (CP)—On his way with a chum to the Okanagan Valley in British Columbia in search of work in the fruit harvest, Paul Sergerie, 21, a transient from Quebec, stopped in Calgary for a swim Saturday afternoon and drowned in the Bow River as three companions, unable to swim, watched helplessly.

The companions, all transients, are held by city police as material witnesses for an inquest to be held this evening. The boys are Frank Reilly, Andrew Thomson and Roland Picard, all of Montreal.

Reilly, Thomson and Picard had dinner in the "jungle" about 1 p.m. Saturday and met Sergerie at the swimming hole by arrangement.

CANADIAN RELIEF FIGURES DECREASE

But Number of Employable Persons Getting Aid Rose in June

OTTAWA (CP)—Preliminary relief figures for June show 848,000 persons in Canada receiving aid, a decrease of 8.7 per cent from May and 4 per cent from June, 1938, according to a labor department statement.

Unemployed but fully employable persons on aid in June numbered 150,000, a decrease of 11.2 per cent from the revised May total of 169,000. Although this June was an increase of 8.6 per cent over a year ago, it was down 17.4 per cent from June, 1937.

The 563,000 persons receiving non-agricultural aid in June were 10 per cent less than May, 8.1 per cent more than June, 1938, and 11 per cent less than June, 1937.

The number of farmers and members of their families in receipt of agricultural aid continues to show a decline from a year ago. A total of 62,500 farmers who, together with their dependents, account for a farm population of 285,000, was reported as receiving agricultural aid for subsistence in June. Of these, 243,500 were located in the province of Saskatchewan.

The Dominion total on agricultural aid in June showed a decrease of 5 per cent from the May figure, was 21.6 per cent less than June, 1938, but 7.8 per cent greater than June, 1937. Total farmers and their families on aid in Saskatchewan continued to hold the improvement over a year ago, June showing a decrease of over 23 per cent, and a decrease of 3.4 per cent from May, 1939.

Former Local Man To Newfoundland

OTTAWA (CP)—Staff-Sergeant E. W. Greenley, 40, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, will leave here shortly to become chief of the Newfoundland Ranger Force with headquarters at Whitehouse.

Returning from four years of service overseas, Staff-Sergeant Greenley rejoined the R.C.M.P. at Vancouver in 1919. He later served with the force at Victoria and Regina, coming to Ottawa in 1935.

Six Killed When 'Dud' Shell Explodes

U.S. National Guardsmen Victims of Accident at Fort Knox, Kentucky

FORT KNOX, Ky. (AP)—Six young Indiana National Guardsmen were dead today—killed when an artillery shell they thought was a "dud" exploded as they tinkered with it.

Three other guardsmen suffered "flesh wounds."

Major-General Robert H. Tyndall, commanding the 38th division, 139th Field Artillery, of which all nine were members, ordered an immediate military inquiry. The accident occurred late yesterday on a "company street" of the guard units here for annual summer training.

The general admitted the board of inquiry had little to go on in its investigation because "every man directly connected with the explosion is dead."

Those killed in the blast were Corp. Charles E. Handrick, 21, Oakland City; Corp. Roy E. Maxey, 20, Oakland City; his brother, Private Paul Maxey, 19; Private Willis Snow Jr., 19, Evansville; Private John R. Jones, 22, Princeton, and Private Arthur McCarty, 19, Princeton.

The injured, now in the army post's hospital, are Sergt. William C. Hart, 43, Princeton; Private Ralph Carter, 21, Fort Branch, and Private Dorris K. Fitch, 19, Princeton.

Eight Injured in Mainland Mishaps

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eight persons were injured, none seriously, in week-end traffic accidents here and in nearby municipalities.

Four women were hurt near West Vancouver Saturday night when their automobile ran out of control on a steep grade at British Pacific Properties. All required hospital treatment. They were Mrs. Margaret Walker of Calgary; Mrs. R. H. Morrison of Regina; Mrs. M. Beatrice Hayward of Vancouver and Miss Mary Walker.

A second accident in West Vancouver resulted in slight injuries to Mrs. E. M. Lund of Vancouver. The car in which she was riding was accidentally bumped by a bus.

WYCLIFFE COLLEGE PRINCIPAL DEAD

Canon R. B. McElheran, Formerly of Winnipeg, Passes in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Principal of Wycliffe college here since 1930, Rev. Canon R. Benjamin McElheran died at his home late Saturday following a lengthy illness. He was 62.

Dr. McElheran came to Wycliffe from St. Matthew's Anglican Church, Winnipeg, where he gained the nickname of "The Marrying Parson," having performed 5,000 marriage ceremonies during his 23 years in that city.

In 1907 he went to what was then a mission on the outskirts of Winnipeg and in the 23 years transformed it into one of the largest and most influential congregations in the city. He also served as Archdeacon of Winnipeg. At the time of his death he also was canon of St. James' Cathedral here.

Born in London, Ont., Canon McElheran graduated from Wycliffe in 1907.

On several occasions efforts were made to have him leave St. Matthew's and take a church in British Columbia, but always he refused to leave Winnipeg until he was offered the principality of his alma mater, Wycliffe College.

He is survived by the widow and one son, Norman Brock McElheran.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon from St. Paul's Church, Bloor Street.

Hon. Charles Dunning Holidays in England

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (CP)—Finance Minister Charles A. Dunning, traveling in search of health, set foot on the soil of his homeland yesterday and said he felt better after his Atlantic voyage.

A native of Croft, in Leicestershire, he promptly denied a report he was contemplating living permanently in England.

"Of course I'm returning to Canada," he said. "Why, I've lived there for 37 years. It never occurred to me to make a change back to England. Such an idea never entered my head."

Mr. Dunning said his visit would be "entirely and completely a rest." He said he had no plans for his holiday beyond his decision to start from London.

New Plan for Danzig?

FOLLOWING THE CONVERSATIONS BETWEEN the Foreign Ministers of the two European axis powers and the German Fuehrer comes the news that Dr. Karl Burckhardt, Danzig's High Commissioner, also was closeted with Herr Hitler last week, and that it is possible he will go—or has gone—to London to discuss with Viscount Halifax some new plan to solve the delicate problem involving the Free City. Berlin advises intimate that both Poland's Foreign Minister Joseph Beck and Danzig Nazi Leader Albert Forster have been acquainted with the Burckhardt proposal.

These developments, although lacking confirmation, are more or less in accord with an interview which Colonel Beck gave to Mr. John Gunther, eminent internationalist and publicist, last Thursday. The deduction made from that conversation was that Poland's "strong man" saw no reason why the Danzig issue could not be disposed of without war if fair play were permitted to prevail. The following gives an idea of the Beck view: "It seems to me very tragic and absurd that during the lifetime of one generation Europe should twice be involved in a great war." Mr. Gunther was assured, however, that if fighting is absolutely necessary, Poland "will not flinch" but "it is certain we have no interest in provoking a war," and "any accusation that Poland has aggressive aims is absurd." On the other hand, said Colonel Beck, "neither likes it when someone tries to frighten them; neither likes to be bullied."

Danzig's future, and the future of Europe, of course, depend mainly on one man—Adolf Hitler. His original demand was that Danzig should be returned unconditionally to the Reich. Nothing has transpired in recent months to indicate that he has undergone any change of heart. Typical Nazi technique has prepared the ground for a coup similar to those executed elsewhere. The program has not been proceeded with because the democracies and other anti-totalitarian states have decreed that the employment of force would find them ranged on the side of Poland under any circumstances she considered menacing to her political and territorial integrity. This resolve still stands. The most influential partners in the "peace bloc" have made it abundantly clear, on the other hand, that if the head of the Nazi oligarchy desires to try to find a formula for peaceful settlement they, and Poland, will be willing to listen to and discuss any proposal he may make. It should be just as plain to him, too, that if he should try to force his own terms he will be asking for serious trouble.

It will be recalled that under Article 102 of the Treaty of Versailles, the Principal Allied and Associated States undertook to establish the Town of Danzig with the surrounding territory as a Free City, to be placed under the protection of the League of Nations, whose duty it is to appoint a High Commissioner. The constitution provides for a Volkstag or Diet of 72 members, with a Senate of 12, but as the government—following the Hitler pattern—has suspended all parties other than the Nazi party, out of the Diet's total membership, 70 wear the swastika, while the other two are Poles. Dr. Burckhardt, incidentally, was appointed High Commissioner February 10, 1937, and it is he who is now coming actively into the reported negotiations for a settlement of the problem.

Slightly Impatient

UNDER THE HEADING, "WHOLLY IN the Air," the Vancouver Daily Province discusses the Alaska Highway and begins with this: "Reiteration of vague and general statements about the B.C.-Alaska Highway is not bringing the road any nearer. And not very much is being said about the proposed highway which is not vague and general. We are still in the stage of wishful thinking."

Our contemporary goes on to tell us that "no doubt it would be a very nice thing if we had a highway to Alaska passing through Vancouver. A lot of things could be done with such a highway, besides going to Alaska on it. But we haven't got the highway, and no one so far has advanced a feasible plan for getting it." Then we read this in conclusion: "Is it not time to get into the realities of this Alaskan Highway project? Let us have some practical understanding of the difficulties we have to cope with before further indulging ourselves in contemplation of the benefits of a completed highway."

Less than a month ago the international commission held its first meeting in Vancouver, continuing its sessions in Victoria, afterwards proceeding to the northern central sections of the province. Experts have flown over the territory considered feasible for the construction of the highway in question. It is body will meet again shortly to consider further information which then no doubt will be available.

In the meantime, however, the Vancouver newspaper may recall that the commission was appointed to go "into the realities" of this highway undertaking. It may also bring itself to an admission that it is forcing the pace when it demands "some practical understanding of the difficulties we have to cope with"—three weeks after the first meeting of the body entrusted to do the investigating.

Tiger Hunt in Tasmania

THE GOOD PEOPLE OF TASMANIA, A state in the Commonwealth of Australia, are on a tiger hunt.

The Tasmanian tiger is apparently not an aggressive creature at all. Being a native of the animal kingdom of Australia, one would expect it to be different, and it is. It is, for instance, a marsupial, carrying its young in a pouch like a kangaroo's, only slightly different. This tiger's pouch faces backwards, but its face is not like that of the orthodox beast by that name. It has a wolf-like head and mouth, and is, on the whole, an animal of the kind you would expect to encounter in "Alice in Wonderland," or in one of Edward Lear's sketchbooks.

In the struggle for survival, the Tasmanian tiger has had a difficult time and is now almost extinct. Last year, the Australian government began a search of the mountains to which its tigers have retreated, in order to make a census of them. Naturally, these animals did not wish to be counted, for obvious reasons, and retreated still further into more inaccessible mountains. Now a determined effort is being made to catch a few of the marsupials alive, and carry them to certain private zoos, so that children may look at them.

Since we are not enthusiasts for the usual zoos—unless they have a wide range where the deer and the antelope roam—we find ourselves cheering for the retreating tigers and their definite good-bye. We hold that the species which chooses freedom and extinction, rather than captivity and reproduction, has a right to its choice.

Too Late

ADVANCE NOTICES OF THE AGENDA for the forthcoming meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations—September 11—indicate that among the important matters to be discussed will be the annexations of Czechoslovakia and Albania, Japanese military activities in China, and international assistance to refugees.

An Ottawa dispatch intimates that no member of the Canadian Government will make the trip this year, the suggestion being that Hon. Vincent Massey, the Dominion's High Commissioner in London, could lead Canada's delegation. The possibility of a general election, of course, will have something to do with the choice of this country's representatives.

Incidentally, it is interesting to note that historical fact is among the "important matters" that will engage the attention of the Assembly, but perhaps the order given will be reversed and the refugee question dealt with early in the deliberations.

No good purpose will be served by giving the axis powers absent treatment. They did their grabbing and the League lost its opportunity to do something when Japan walked into Manchuria. It is too late now.

"Honor is something without which one cannot live," says Hitler without thinking.

In Australia a man has walked 800 miles with a bag of golf sticks. Now for the iron shot.

Records indicate that living is more than 15 per cent cheaper than in 1929, and this doesn't count what you save by letting the stock market alone.

Some think war waits only on the bringing in of Europe's wheat harvest, when the scythe can be handed back to the grim reaper to do his stuff.

What the world needs, the New Yorker thinks, is a definition of the word "crisis." Predictions of a "prolonged crisis" raises the question: If it is prolonged, is it a crisis? The dictionary says a crisis is a turning point in the progress of a disease, or a moment of danger or suspense in politics or commerce. In modern usage, this moment, this point lasts years. Perhaps the word we are all groping for is "stasis." It's closer, anyhow.

Lesson in War Debts

R. J. Deachman, M.P., in Toronto Star

War debts owing to the United States from the United Kingdom totaled $4,600,000,000. Payment was to be made over a period of 62 years. This involved roughly $75,000,000 per annum. It would have added less than $2 in taxation per capita to the people of the United Kingdom, a trifling item in view of recent tax increases.

In order to provide dollar exchange for these transfers, it would have been necessary for the United States to accept an unfavorable balance of trade—an excess of imports over exports, a condition which has existed in Great Britain for a generation, with marked benefit to her economy. It would have meant that the United States, as a creditor nation, a position achieved by force of accident, would have accepted the role which Great Britain assumed between 1870 and the outbreak of the Great War, lending capital for the development of backward nations, receiving her recompense in the expansion of trade due to the development of a richer, happier and more peaceful world.

I wonder if the American people know even yet that the policy they have accepted, the policy of nation self-sufficiency, is an extremely difficult role and likely in the end to prove very costly!

Water over the dam! Perhaps, but we face now the problem of a contracting world! Which is it to be, development or restriction? A world at peace with some measure of freedom in the exchange of goods and services, or a world which staggers under the load of trade restrictions, repudiation of obligations, and the fear of war?

Loose Bits

DON'T TAKE WOMEN FISHING

LAST SPRING Angus Fraser's sister had come out from Scotland and Angus said she was just crazy over fishing and suggested that we make up a party and take the ladies with us—I mean the girls, writes Stephen Leacock in the August Rotarian. Angus is such a good feller we didn't like to say no. He's a minister, but he's all right; and of course he can cast a fly as none of us can because he's fished in Scotland and caught salmon, and what do they call them—gillies?

So we made up a mixed party and took along the ladies. Well, once you let women in on a trout stream, you might as well send in a bunch of cattle. I never realized they could seem so darned noisy. And then, you see, you've got to fix up their lines, and this day we had even to bait their hooks as it was too early and too cold for flies. That means that the women hang tight to you; you can't shake them—they just won't shake.

So I found myself with Angus' sister hooked on to me and I couldn't shake her. I'd put her in a good spot and tell her to stay right there, and then I'd drive through the brush across a bend in the river and in five minutes she'd be right beside me again—for a new hook and another worm.

I told her to try a cast and fitted on a lead and right away she hooked an elm tree—the one kind of tree that will catch up 30 feet of line and never let it go. That woman may have been crazy over fishing, but next time she can go and be crazy by herself somewhere else. The meanest thing about it was that Angus himself sneaked off alone away up the stream.

What made the day worse was that having the ladies with us we had to knock off fishing for lunch—I mean a real lunch all fussed up under a tree. We lost at least an hour over it. Anyone who really knows trout fishing knows what it means to stop for lunch! Who wants lunch? All you need are sandwiches on one hip and something to sluice them down with on the other.

But with women there, nothing will do but a dolled-up lunch, with plates and napkins and a lot of stuff to wash up afterward. Luckily there's generally some nut among the men, a little soft on women, who will do the washing-up and give the other men a chance to beat it.

But on the whole when you go fishing, you don't want any women along. Candidly I don't think there was ever a woman born who really liked fishing. They just lie about it. Women can lie and never know it.

VACATIONIST'S RETURN

A COLLEAGUE returning from vacation is so anxious to tell everybody about it that he disrupts the office routine, slows down production, increases overhead and thereby reduces profits. In a well-regulated office vacation reports should be made on a strictly business basis. A returning vacationist should be supplied with a form bearing the following questions and asked to fill out the answers:

Did you have a swell time?
Where did you go?
How many miles did you average per day?
What sports did you indulge in?
How was the food?
If you attended a world's fair what did you think of it?
Any exciting adventures? If so, describe them briefly.
Did you meet anybody who knows anybody in the office, and who asked to be remembered to them?
How was the weather?
Did you catch any fish?
Did a fish get off your line? How big was it?
How much did the vacation cost?
What clothes did you wear?
Did your coat of tan cause you suffering?
Did you twist or sprain anything or catch cold?
Were you seasick? If so, describe in detail.
What members of the family accompanied you?
Did you meet with any accidents?
Was the traffic on the road bad?
Are you glad to be back home?
Do you feel as fit as you look and are you ready to pitch right in?
Are there any other features of your vacation which have not been included in the foregoing questions and which you care to mention briefly?

The form, when properly filled out, should be posted on the bulletin board for the benefit of persons interested. That is, if there are any.

Where Enemies Help

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

THE MOVEMENT for federal union of the 15 democracies as the basis for a true world federation is making swift strides. In Britain the organization is proceeding quietly under the leadership of Wickham Steed, Lionel Curtis and Lord Lothian. In the United States the growth is more spectacular, and the author of the plan, Clarence Streit, who wrote "Union Now," is deluged with lecture invitations and demands for written matter. In Canada nearly all the comment has so far been favorable. Bruce Hutchison has done a lot here on the Pacific Coast to popularize the idea. In the east such very different journals as the influential French Canadian paper Le Jour and the ponderous spokesman of the old-school Tories, the Montreal Gazette, have been equally friendly to the plan.

But enemies have begun to appear on the horizon. In the United States the counterpart of the Irish Republican extremists, who are now trying to blow up London, are trying to blow up the plan for federal union by branding it as a British plot to submerge the United States. In England an Ultra Tory journal, the New Pioneer, attacks the plan on the ground that the United States would submerge England in the proposed setup. Actually the plan would operate precisely the same as Confederation has been worked in Canada. The 15 democracies would become one confederate unit with one army, one navy, one air force, one war office, one foreign office, one post office, one department of trade and commerce. Representation would be by direct election of the people. There would be a House of Assembly, an upper chamber, and a small executive board of three, five or seven members. The assemblymen would be elected on the basis of one member per 1,000,000 voters. This would work out as follows to begin with: Australia 7, Belgium 8, Canada 11, Denmark 4, Finland 4, France 42, Ireland 3, Netherlands 8, New Zealand 2, Norway 3, Sweden 6, Switzerland 2, South Africa 7, United Kingdom 46, United States 124.

There would be permanent provision for other nations such as Germany, Italy, Russia, China, Japan, or any other, to join the federation, as soon as they had complied with basic conditions, namely, the adoption of a fixed democratic principle in their constitution, with the inclusion also of a permanent Bill of Human Rights. I firmly believe that the adoption of the proposed scheme of democratic federation, if effected immediately, would end the danger of a world war. But in the light of past experience I am afraid that the adoption of such a progressive step is more likely to come when the nations have been once again overwhelmed by the disaster of war.

In any event the Streit plan is a program to secure, extend and reinforce peace by peaceful means. If and when the nations adopt it they will strike the greatest blow against war that has ever been struck in human history.

'CLIVEN SET' HOMELESS

IF ASTORS CLOSE MANSION From Calgary Herald
The so-called "Cliven Set" may be without a home soon if Lord and Lady Astor carry out a reported plan to close the famous house on the Thames. One the heights commanding a magnificent sweep of the river, green woodland and the Chiltern Hills, Cliven has been a residence for 300 years.

The modern "Cliven Set" was supposed to be a small but powerful group of pro-British British politicians who determined the trend of British foreign policy. In recent years the Astors have used the house almost exclusively for week-ends, although the great mansion requires 100 domestic servants and an army of gardeners to maintain the 300-acre estate with its many terraces and gardens.

HANDS ACROSS
From Walter Winchell's Column
Talk about Englishmen capturing the favor of Americans—this incident happened at Billy Rose's "Aquacade" show at the World's Fair. The Commander and crew of a British warship attended a performance and the producer put them all down front in the "press boxes." The finale brings on all the girls, many of whom climb high steps, and when the final note is sounded there is spread a giant-sized American flag. At this, the entire British crew stood up, right hands to their temples in salute. The orchestra leader, however, used great presence of mind. He had his orchestra strike up God Save the King. And then the entire audience, almost 11,000 persons, stood up and returned the compliment.

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS
1. What is wrong with this sentence? "He ain't going."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "domicile"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Length, leisure, leopard.
4. What does the word "calumny" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with ha that means "to accuse, to malign; familiarize"?

Answers

1. Say "He (singular subject) isn't going." Ain't is a contraction for are not is vulgar and should be avoided. 2. Pronounce dom-i-sill, o as in on, both i's as in it (first i unstressed), accent first syllable. 3. Length. 4. False and malicious accusation; slander. "She was too sensitive to abuse and calumny."—Macaulay. 5. Apparition.

To the Editor:—I read your editorial re Mayor Telford holding back. Well, my idea is that he is scared because he cannot prove charges on Chief Foster. Furthermore, I think he is nothing but a trouble-maker bringing up matters with no foundation. He was always like that on his radio talks. Why doesn't he look after his business at the city hall instead of stirring up trouble. H. W. HARRIS.

FEARS MORAL RUIN

To the Editor:—I would like to call the attention of your readers to a passage in Paul's Epistle to the Romans in the hope that it might cause some to consider well before they mark their ballot on the beer parlor question: "But judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way."

Why is this thing being thrust upon us at this time? Is it for anybody's convenience? No. It is in the interests of profits and dividends for breweries and their shareholders. The more facilities there are for drinking, the more beer will be consumed, and it matters not to those who get the profits that there will result the moral ruin of young men and young women; wives will be saddened; mothers will be broken-hearted and accidents will be multiplied.

I think the liquor interests are going to be defeated again this time. Why do I think so? Because even fathers who themselves are addicted are saying that they don't want a multiplication of drinking places put in the way of their boys and girls. But mental protests don't count. It is votes that count. I do want to impress upon electors that if they don't take the trouble to go to the polls they are thereby helping to put stumbling-blocks in the way.

This is not exclusively a total abstinence question; it is a citizens' question. The credit of our fair city is at stake. Those who vote for beer parlors are the enemies of law and order and cleanliness. Those who live where beer parlors exist know something of the horrible mess they create.

Asks Conference On Sewer Issue

Provincial Health Officer Suggests City-Saanich Meeting

A joint conference between Victoria and Saanich representatives on the sewer question is suggested by Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer, in a letter received today at the City Hall.

The problem was referred to Dr. Young by the city in a letter written July 26. In that letter Victoria stated sewage escaped from Saanich into the city at certain points and constituted a health menace. Victoria asked the department take steps to remove that menace.

"I have taken this matter up with Mr. Lambbrick, reeve of Saanich, and after some discussion and listening to his explanation of being willing to discuss the whole question with the city representatives, and asking that we forward this request for co-operation on their part with the council in this matter."

"Will you kindly advise me at your early convenience as to what reply I may be able to send Reeve Lambbrick," the letter said in part.

The municipality of Oak Bay, to which the city also referred the question, notified Victoria the situation was being studied by the Oak Bay health officer, on whose report the municipality would wait before any decision was reached.

MORE HOMES NOW BEING CONSTRUCTED

Three homes were included in the list of 12 building permits issued by the city building inspector's department last week.

Total value of all constructions was set at $10,630. Other projects included a new warehouse office and minor repairs and alterations.

In Oak Bay papers were taken out by A. W. Malhuish for a $2,800 six-room home at 990 Hampshire Road; by A. C. Smith for a $3,000 five-room house at 1766 Armstrong Avenue, and by P. D. Dutot for a $3,500 six-room home at 2331 Pacific Avenue.

No house permits were issued in Esquimalt during the week.

Borah-Johnson Team Still a Fighting Duet

Still battling side by side, against foreign policy of a President—Senator Hiram Johnson of California, left, and Senator William Borah of Idaho. Top, as they fought Wilson's League of Nations proposals 20 years ago. Lower, as they war on Roosevelt's neutrality law revisions today.

WASHINGTON — They have lived through 20 busy, eventful years since they led the Senate's "battalion of death" in its fight on Woodrow Wilson's League of Nations, and the years have left their mark on both of them. But William E. Borah and Hiram Johnson stand today exactly where they stood two decades ago, making the same kind of fight—and, from all present indications, winning the same kind of victory.

Borah was a black-maned lion-voiced stalwart in 1919, when Woodrow Wilson came back from Paris and offered his country a policy of international co-operation, and Johnson was like him (except for the black mane). They were in their early fifties then, a year apart in age, and at the very height of their powers.

Today everything is different — except for whatever it is inside of the heads and hearts of two stout fighters which makes them set up ideals and stick to them.

TACTICS DIFFER TODAY

The president they fought in 1919 has been in his grave on Mt. St. Albans for 15 years and more. The League of Nations they fought is moribund. The senators who joined forces with them are gone — waspish Jim Reed of Missouri, vindictive Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, stout Bob LaFollette of Wisconsin. In their places are who were not in the senate then at all, men whom the public had not heard of—Bennett Clark of Missouri, Gerald Nye of North Dakota, Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, and another Bob LaFollette.

The fight itself is different, in a way.

In 1919 and 1920 the League and the Versailles Treaty were attacked from the senate floor, day in and day out, in resounding oratory. This year the attack on the president's foreign policy is less spectacular. It has produced some oratory, but it has been more a matter of quiet strategy, of off-the-floor organization, of effective work in conference and committee.

There is less bitterness to it, too. Both Lodge and Reed hated Woodrow Wilson with a passionate flaming hatred. That may not have influenced their attitude in the league fight, but it colored their manner of fighting. Wilson, himself a bitter hater, struck back in the same way. The fighting on both sides was tense and vindictive.

PERSONAL FEELING NOT SO HOT

Today, though there are many senators who do not love Franklin Roosevelt, this bitter personal feeling is less in evidence. Where the personal equation enters into the fight, it comes in largely as a feeling that the president is temperamentally unsuited to the task of exercising the delicate powers which revision of the neutrality laws would give him.

Last of all, Senators Borah and Johnson have changed.

They are in their seventies now. Johnson's hair is white; Borah's is no longer the black, leonine mane that enthralled gallery visitors in the old days. The years have put their mark on them; have taken them past the time when either man might dream of occupying the White House himself some day (either or both might easily have done so, once, had luck been just a little different), have robbed their steps of their spring, and touched the timber of their voices. . . . Yet inside, nothing has changed. They stand now where they stood 20 years ago, still fighting—and still the kind of fighters who are likely to win.

Funeral services for John Barryard who passed away in Chemainus Hospital last Sunday was held Wednesday afternoon from Calvary Baptist Church to Chemainus cemetery. The pallbearers were P. and A. Erickson, Oscar Johnson, Jack Lock Jr., A. Benson and M. Mainwaring.

B.C. CABINET TO REASSEMBLE

Premier Returns This Week; Other Ministers Move

With the return to Victoria this week of Premier Pattullo, the full provincial cabinet will reassemble briefly before several ministers undertake visits to different parts of the province.

The Premier is expected back early in the week from Los Angeles, where he flew after attending the Liberal party's complimentary dinner to Prime Minister Mackenzie King in Ottawa.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, who has been on government business in the Cariboo, and Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, who has been on the mainland, are expected to return Tuesday or Wednesday.

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, got back yesterday from a visit to the Okanagan, and Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines, returned from an inspection of the Portland Canal district.

Mr. Asselstine plans to leave again next week for the Peace River country and will be followed by the Premier who intends to make an aerial tour of the Mackenzie River basin. Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, will take a vacation beginning next Wednesday and will be away about one month.

Parent-Teacher Literature Depot

The special committee of the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council comprising Trustees P. E. George, Mrs. Elsie Day and Mrs. T. M. Ross announces that through the courtesy of A. J. Watson, manager of the Hudson's Bay Company store here, a parent-teacher literature depot has been opened on the mezzanine floor of the Hudson's Bay store.

This service was inaugurated for the benefit of a large number of parent-teacher membership and interested parents in greater Victoria and surrounding districts. A fairly representative stock of free and purchasable parent-teacher literature is on hand for distribution and all people interested in this fast-growing movement are welcome to call at the depot and talk over their problems with the lady in charge. The two days in which this depot has been open evidences a far greater and wider interest than was anticipated by the committee. From now until the opening of the public schools the following ladies will be on duty: Mrs. Elsie Day, Mrs. T. M. Ross, Mrs. James F. Cameron and Mrs. W. H. Yardley. Office hours are from 10 to 12 and from 2 to 5 daily, except Sunday.

Sorcerers, Devils Still Real Power

AUSTRALIA (Australian Press Bureau)—"After 50 years of government and missionary work among the natives of New Guinea, humbugging sorcerers still are the real power in the land," writes Sir Hubert Murray, governor of Australia's territory, Papua, in his annual report.

In an account of a survey for an airfield, it is recorded that the efforts of the officer in charge were "unfortunately hampered by the existence of 'devil trees' which the proposed airfield seems to possess in abundance. The first intimation of a diabolical influence was when some of the trees 'flung down' a branch at a party of natives, who immediately downed tools, and were with difficulty persuaded to resume work. A liberal display of fireworks definitely freed the area from all evil influences."

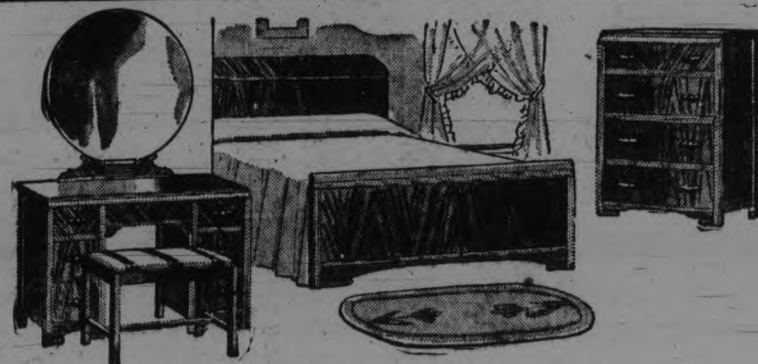

POINTS OF LAW

Under a heading "Some Nice Questions of Law," Sir Hubert recounts a village comedy. "In one case," he writes, "Village A demanded three girls from village B in payment for certain murders. The murderers were in jail, but this, the claimants argued, was no good to village A, and they must have the girls in addition. The assistant resident magistrate apparently left them still arguing."

"Then he came to a village where the rain-maker, a woman, had become unpopular through having had a bath. It appears that when she has a bath it rains, and when she does not the rain ceases. The village people wanted fine weather, but they got rain—obviously because she had had a bath, which she had promised not to do. She indignantly repudiated the charge, stoutly denied that she had had a bath, but said she made the rain because she had not received enough pay. She then took a bath and splashed about enough to cause a deluge, but nothing

London Television Flashes Picked Up in New York

By GEORGE ROSS

NEW YORK — As in radio's horse and buggy days, when the neighbors gathered 'round to inspect the makeshift cats'-whisker sets and listened to what then passed for wireless entertainment the aweful public now congregates around the television receivers.

A few months ago the Radio City guardians decided to admit sightseers to the compact television cloisters. A fairly heavy tariff was set on the tour in the hope it would discourage visitors from invading the still-meager studio facilities in too great numbers.

But the price of admission is no barrier. Ten thousand people stream in every day to see the studio, the activity and the receiving sets. The proceeds of these tours have been more profitable than the most reckless optimist had expected.

TWO SECONDS FROM LONDON

In the television corridors the other day, a technician told a tale that should have extraordinary interest for Orson Welles. Once or twice during recent months, this expert reported, television receivers in New York have picked up scenes flashed from visual broadcasts in London. This was a mystery that exceeded all the knowledge of science, for television still is supposed to be chained to a visual radius of 50 miles.

So two or three celebrated and authoritative scientists were consulted and they offered this H. G. Wellsian explanation: These televised rays, they said, traveled upward from London with the speed of light and met a planet somewhere in their aerial junket. This planet, in turn, reflected the rays back toward the earth and, because of the natural curvature of the globe, flung it back in our direction. All this took time, because the scenes were spotted here two seconds after they left the British capital!

The reason Welles should have a special interest in this is because the planet might be Mars. And perhaps not. Anyway, a re-broadcast from Mars sounds more feasible than when he attempted one the last time.

FUTURE LOOKS VERY EXCITING

Those zealous and eager folk who have toiled through the experimental era of television tell me that their medium will make new and important progress next fall.

Inexpensive receiving sets already are on the assembly line and many a creative head has collided with another in an effort to dig up the material that will comprise television entertainment. There are countless drawbacks, of course, but all the tireless pioneers are confident they will be overcome soon.

Meanwhile, the bandwagon climbers are treading all over each other in their efforts to be among the early passengers. Broadway actors have besieged the studios with pleas for work in the new histrionic medium. The only—and by far, the most menacing—holdouts are the movie firms, for they hold the bulk of the film footage in the nation and are reluctant to sell the precious reels to television. For an excellent reason, of course. The widespread popularity of this new scientific miracle may some day spell the demise of Hollywood.

In spite of its carnivorous habits towards insects, the praying mantis is harmless to man.

No More Piles

Get Quick, Pleasant Relief

Probably not one person in ten knows the cause of piles is inside—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. That is the scientific truth about piles and is the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give more than temporary relief—they do not remove the cause. Your piles can not be relieved until you have corrected the condition which causes them. That is why an internal medicine like HEM-ROID should be used. HEM-ROID is the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, who early in his professional life made many tests to relieve piles by correcting the cause. His medicine succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, eases the pressure of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and helps to heal and restore the sore, tender parts. So if you have failed to get the relief you want from your sore, painful piles, and would like to give HEM-ROID a trial, you have our promise to return your money, if just one bottle of this prescription does not give pleasing results. MacParlane and Vancouver Drug Co. stores, or any druggist, can supply you with the genuine HEM-ROID.

Canadian Athletes Pretty as Chorus Girls

By MURIEL ADAMS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Let the disparaging voices about the beauty of Canada's women athletes be stilled, or let those who believe that beauty and athletics don't mix take a look at some of the girls who compete in Canadian track and field.

On occasion a voice has been lifted to question the place and the beauty of women in sport. To the unbiased, Canada's feminine track stars looked more like chorus girls than high jumpers or fast runners when they stepped out of the dressing rooms after the Canadian championship here Saturday.

Blondes, brunettes and red-heads, with hair curled up in the latest fashion, nails neatly manicured and polished and garbed in the most feminine frippery, they were just as pretty as any representative group of Canadian girls.

Even on the wide, green lawn of the track stadium, they resembled front-row high kickers as they limbered up before events, making a leg show of high merit. Figures among the racers and jumpers would be hard to beat anywhere. Discus and javelin throwers generally are heavier than others but still retain their feminine curves.

PLENTY OF BEAUX

There's Phyllis Lafoy of Sault Ste. Marie, who brought her strong legs to the east from Saskatchewan two years ago. She wears her nut-brown hair curled high on her forehead and is headed toward a stenographic career but may enrol later at a university to study physical training. She has plenty of beaux but they are not all athletes. However, she likes a man to be "interested" in sports—"it doesn't matter whether on the cinder track or the dance floor, I get along all right with them." And Phyllis is pretty, too.

Timest competitor of the 116 entrants, five-foot, 14-year-old Eryll Nurse of Chatham, Ont., has the makings of a "glamour girl." Although only in second form high school she thinks she would like to be a school teacher, like my dad. Looking more like a child movie star than a medal-winning jumper, she wore blue and rose pin-striped shorts and a white blouse and caught her long brown curls at the top of her head with a rose bow.

Mere Male Tops in Petit Point

CAPETOWN — Toby Kernan, secretary of a leading South African lecturer, has the strangest hobby and he is proud of it. He works portraits and scenes in petit point.

Wanting an outlet for an artistic longing which was squelched at the age of eight when he discovered he could not master drawing or painting, he began copying pictures in needlework.

Now after 20 years, his petit point pictures are ranked among the finest in the world. He has made pictures of Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth and presented them to their Majesties. He works with silk on linen without drawing even an outline of his picture.

A picture three feet by two feet takes 500 hours, or a year to do. Some of his stitches on the linen are over only one thread. They are so minute that they are hardly visible to the naked eye. He uses as many as 12 different silks to work an eye.

He took several of his pictures with him to America for exhibit.

ATTACKS OF INDIGESTION FOR SIXTY YEARS BEFORE HE FOUND MOSBY'S TONIC

"I Was in Distress With Continual Soreness in My Stomach, Due to Gas Bloating," States Mr. Stanton, 89-year-old Citizen. "And My Stomach Was Sour and Bowels Always Constipated. But Now Mosby's Tonic Has Relieved Me. I Gladly Endorse Such a Splendid Medicine."

Now Tells of Relief Mosby's Tonic Gave

"About the time I was having one of my worst attacks of bloating and soreness I began to read in the papers about Mosby's Tonic, and finally I got this medicine and started taking it. And I want to say that it certainly gave me relief. It relieved my sour and bloated stomach to such an extent that I do not have that soreness like I did, and it cleared all of my stomach. My bowels are more regular now than they have been in YEARS, and I feel fine in general. It is hard for me to put into words, but if you could understand how bad I felt before I found Mosby's Tonic, and how much better I feel now, then you would realize why I think so much of this Fine Medicine, and why I gladly give you my statement and publicly endorse it."

Over 100,000 Bottles Sold In One Year

SUFFERERS! All you people who are in distress as described above. Bear this in mind, that is, Over 100,000 Bottles of Mosby's Tonic have been sold in the short period of one year. So don't hesitate. Get this Splendid Medicine—TODAY—and start taking it!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, is now at The VANCOUVER DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Streets, Victoria, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

WEDDINGS

DIMENT—COWDERY

Standard baskets of summer flowers in the pastel shades were arranged by girl friends of the bride in St. Alban's Church on Saturday evening for the wedding at 8.30 of Elizabeth Muriel (Betty), younger daughter of Mrs. Cowdery, 2855 Cedar Hill Road, and of the late Mr. H. C. Cowdery, and Mr. Fred Diment, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Diment, View Royal.

Rev. F. Comley performed the ceremony in the presence of a congregation which filled the church, and Mr. Walter Hamilton, organist, played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother, was a pretty picture in her gown of white satin with a brief train. The bodice, with its long puffed sleeves, tight-fitting at the wrists, was gathered into a corset girdle and at each side of the sweetheart neckline were tiny bows of white satin and clusters of orange blossom. Her hip-length veil was attached to a halo of satin edged with a ruffling of net, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and swansonia.

Miss Joan Cowdery was her sister's bridesmaid, in a floor-length frock of peach net with a full skirt, and a lace jacket trimmed down the front with bows of delphinium blue velvet. Her pancake hat of delphinium blue French flowers was tied at the back with blue velvet and finished with a blue veil, and in place of the conventional bouquet she carried a floral muf of peach begonia and blue delphinium surrounded by bouvardia.

Mr. Gilbert Diment was his brother's groomsmen, and Messrs. Ted Griffin and Victor Turner ushered the guests to the pews, which were marked with posies of rose verbena and yellow marguerites.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where baskets of flowers were arranged throughout the rooms, and a bowl filled with white geraniums and maidenhair fern centred the supper table flanked by white tapers in silver holders. The bride's cake, iced by an old family friend, Mrs. J. White, stood on a small table apart. Mrs. Cowdery welcomed the guests in a gown of Mayflower lilac sheer with matching accessories, and Mrs. Diment Sr. wore a frock of turquoise blue crepe with a long black lace coat and black accessories. They both wore corsage bouquets of roses and schizanthus.

After a motor trip in the State of Washington, for which the bride left in a Queen's rose frock of Mainliner crepe, with a navy blue wool boucle coat with rose accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias, Mr. and Mrs. Diment will reside at 2819 Cedar Hill Road.

LLOYD—FITCH

DUNCAN — At St. John's Church on Saturday evening Eileen Florence, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fitch, Deerholme, became the bride of Joseph Leslie George Lloyd, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lloyd, Duncan. Rev. H. T. Archbold was the officiating clergyman. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion by friends of the bride and groom, and Mr. Bernard Ryall played the wedding music, and the "Ave Maria" during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. R. Sothern of Victoria, wore a gown of white net over taffeta, and a long white embroidered tulle veil, held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She also wore a string of pearls and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and fern.

Her sister, Mrs. J. Stevens of Qualicum, was matron of honor, wearing a gown of blue taffeta, frilled at the hem, matching doll hat trimmed with flowers and tulle, and white accessories, with a sheaf bouquet of gladioli in peach shades. Miss Evelyn Lloyd, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of petal rose moire taffeta, with matching doll hat, and white accessories. Her bouquet was of pink gladioli. Little Joan Stevens, the bride's niece, was flower girl, in a floor-length dress of pink net, trimmed with bands of satin, a small pink-flowered poke bonnet, and lace mittens and carried a Colonial bouquet. Mr. C. S. Jordan, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man, and Mr. Francis Potts and Mr. Frank Weston acted as ushers.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Glenora Community Hall, which was prettily decorated. Mrs. Fitch received the guests, wearing a dress of navy blue crepe with a smart white picture hat and beige accessories, and was assisted by Mrs. J. R. Lloyd, in a dress of brown crepe with white trimmings, and white accessories. Both had corsage bouquets of carnations and stocks.

For going away the bride chose a pretty blue suit, with white accessories, topped with a pink jigger coat. After a honeymoon on the mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd will reside at Deerholme.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Stevens and daughter Joan of Qualicum Beach; Mrs. R. H. Williams and daughter Jane, of Horne Lake; Mrs. Gilbert Moene of Courtenay, Mr. and Mrs. R. Sothern, Jack Sothern, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sothern and Robert Sothern, Mr. and Mrs. C. Sothern all of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. C. Devitt, Chemainus, Mr. Emil Merkel and Mr. James Zarmson of Youbou.

FAWDRY—DRIVER

DUNCAN — MHI Bay United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Sunday at 1 p.m. when the Rev. Thos. Menzies of Victoria, united in marriage Evelyn Elizabeth (Betty), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Driver, Duncan, and Robert E. B. Fawdry, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fawdry, Mill Bay. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion by relatives of the bride, and Mrs. Ellis was at the organ and played the wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lilac sheer wool, in grape shade, with terrisane rose jacket of sheer, small hat to match, and bottle green accessories, with corsage bouquet of white carnations, bouganavilla and white heather.

Mrs. John Kerrone was matron of honor, wearing a suit in a shade of bottle green, with hat and accessories in shades of japonica. Her corsage bouquet was of roses and gladioli. Mr. John Kerrone supported the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, Duncan, where Mrs. F. Driver received the guests in a ramara crepe dress in Burgundy shade, large hat, and corsage of pale pink carnations, assisted by Mrs. Fawdry in a jacket of wine-colored sheer, with navy blue accessories, and corsage of pale pink carnations. The house decorations were in gladioli of different shades. The three-tier wedding cake adorned by silver candlesticks and flowers in pastel shades. For traveling, the bride donned a fawn camel's hair coat over her wedding outfit, and after a honeymoon spent in the Sound cities, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fawdry will make their home in Duncan.

Amongst the out-of-town guests were Miss Minette Eason of Gleashunt, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. Colin Tyrrell, Miss Dorothy Holland, and Mr. Lewis Dellamore of Victoria.

BRITTON—BURTON

The marriage of Alice Audrey Margaret, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Burton, 223 Wilson Street, and Mr. Frank Britton, youngest son of Mr. W. Britton and the late Mrs. Britton, Winnipeg, took place at 8 o'clock last evening at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. James Hood.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a powder blue sharkskin suit, and was attended by Mrs. Jack Rogers in turquoise blue. They both wore white accessories and corsage bouquets of lilac rosebuds. The bride's brother-in-law, Mr. John Kirk, was best man.

An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Burton in a mauve crepe dress and a corsage bouquet of carnations. The decorations were carried out in pink and white, and the bride and groom stood to receive their friends beneath an archway and bell decorated with sweet peas and gladioli. The fireplace was banked with pink dahlias. The supper table was centred with a three-tiered cake and lighted by pink candles in silver holders. At each corner of the table stood vases of pink sweet peas. Assisting the hostess was her daughter, Mrs. John Kirk, and the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. James Britton.

After a honeymoon in Seattle, for which the bride donned wine accessories with her wedding outfit, Mr. and Mrs. Britton will return to Victoria to live. Miss Ruth Jaffray, Walnut Grove, B.C., was a guest at the wedding.

TWEEDSMUIRS GO TO PEACE RIVER

EDMONTON (CP)—After a day filled with a fishing trip and a visit to the Athabasca glacier in Jasper National Park, the Governor-General and his party arrived here last night. They will leave this afternoon for the Peace River district of Alberta and British Columbia.

On the fishing trip to Beaver Lake, Lord Tweedsmuir caught several speckled trout which, members of the party said, made first-class food. They also said the Governor-General had been deeply impressed by the west's golden grain, which he had seen at its best for the first time.

Only one event was scheduled for the vice-regal stop here. Today the party lunched with Lieutenant-Governor J. C. Bowen and Mrs. Bowen at their residence.

Sir Shuldgan Redfern joined the party here. Coming from Ottawa, he will relieve Lieut. Robin Scott, R.N., comptroller to the Governor-General's household.

Lord Tweedsmuir will spend five days in the Peace River district, returning here next Saturday.

Styles From the Past

NEW YORK (CP)—Look in the family album if you're interested in the trend of fall hat styles is advice from Paris. Aunt Susan's honeymoon hat or the "creation" great-aunt Hattie wore may be noted with few alterations in this year's mode.

Too Many "Litterbugs"

CAPE TOWN (CP)—It takes from 800 to 900 cleaning men to remove dustbins, wash streets and sweep up refuse from gutters here. Civic officials lament there are "too many litterbugs" in Cape Town.

Social and Personal

Mrs. M. M. Beasley, Beach Drive, has as her guests Mrs. Eardley-Wilmot, formerly of Cowichan Lake, and Mrs. Vere Eardley-Wilmot of Ottawa, who will be joined in a few days by Mr. Vere Eardley-Wilmot.

Miss Agnes Bain, who is visiting Victoria, was entertained Thursday at a luncheon party given in her honor by Mrs. Cadwgan Williams at her home on Seaview Avenue. Miss Bain will be returning shortly to the mainland.

Reinstatement of Workers Opposed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Republic Steel Corporation asked the United States circuit court of appeals today to rule that strikers who commit acts of lawlessness have forfeited all right to return to their jobs.

The request was made in a brief supplementing arguments by Republic attorneys August 7 on Republic's petition asking that the court set aside an order of the National Labor Relations Board which directed the company to reinstate 5,000 Ohio workers involved in the "Little Steel" strikes of 1937.

Boy of Seven Atlantic Stowaway

Robert Taylor Will Be Sent Back to Scotland From Quebec

GLASGOW (CP)—Seven-year-old Robert Taylor, possibly the world's youngest stowaway, grinned and said "hullo" with a Canadian accent today when officers of the Cunard liner Andania plucked him from the gloom of a lifeboat.

A wireless message from the Andania's captain, received by Robert's parents here, was the first news of the wandering Glasgow boy since he walked up the liner's gangway at Greenock on Saturday, telling seamen: "I'm one of the passengers."

The Taylor family returned seven months ago to Scotland from Montreal, where Robert was born.

The captain in his message said Robert would be shipped home immediately the Andania docks at Quebec.

When Robert disappeared from his Greenock home James Tay-

Cards Smash Leaders Twice

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

FRIDAY NIGHT'S miniature riot which brought to a close the box lacrosse game between James Bay and Conservatives has resulted in no little talk among the city's supporters. Following day Alderman Stan Okell, who in his younger days, wielded a smart stick in field lacrosse and is one of those who has worked hard towards the revival of this famous Canadian sport in Victoria dropped into the office for a chat. And Okell is really worried over the future of lacrosse here.

"Such an affair as took place at the Willows Friday night will kill lacrosse in Victoria quicker than anything else," Okell stated. "Regardless of what possibly a handful of fans think, the majority of spectators attend to see a good hard contest with smart stickhandling, goal scoring and defensive play. There is no need for all this rough rowdiness and the players must be brought to realize they cannot get away with such tactics."

"I am not blaming the players or referees but claim the penalties should be much stiffer. We are developing some really great players in Victoria and I am looking forward to the time when we can engage in intercity games with the mainland clubs. But the games must be kept under control, otherwise box lacrosse will die out as did the field game here. If that happens the sport will suffer a setback from which it will take years to recover. And there is another angle that cannot be overlooked. If parents find their boys are getting cut and injured in these games they are going to put a stop to their playing lacrosse. Imagine what that will mean when it comes to finding young players to develop and bring along to the point where they can step into senior company. It will mean the field from which to draw from will be mighty small. Quick action is necessary and it must be severe to drive the point home."

When Alfie Phillips, Toronto, finished fourth in the 1932 Olympic springboard diving lists, placing right behind the leading U.S. contenders, Canada reached a new height in its campaign for world laurels in that field. When Phillips turned pro, Canada's chances hit the skids.

Now from the west coast, from which Percy Williams flashed to Olympic pinnacles in 1928, comes a new diving threat. Vancouver, home of Williams and 1932 Olympic high jump champion Dunc McNaughton, sends forth George Athans, a slightly built young fellow with a growing wizardry in the air.

George has competed and placed highly in the British Empire Games. He contested the diving in the Berlin Games in 1936 and he should just about hit his peak for Finland next year. Right now he is training in Santa Barbara, under Fred Cady, leading coach in that line of water sports.

As a tryout, George took in the senior southern Pacific coast championships at Pasadena on August 4, meeting such men as Frankie Kurtz, veteran Olympic performer, and Johnny Riley, springboard star of the Galitz brothers. In both 10 metre tower and 3-metre springboard events, the Vancouver boy placed second, beating Riley in the latter.

He's hitting his two and one-half front, gainer and a half cut-away and one half in pike position, which means plenty to those who know diving. George gave Victorians their last classy exhibition of diving in an international meet at the Crystal Garden last year. He'll be back in town to see some of his relatives next month, and may put on a show then.

St. Louis Whips Cincinnati 4 to 2 and 4 to 3 In Major Ball Games

Cincinnati's raucous Reds may or may not be "in" but St. Louis Cardinals definitely aren't "out"—either to callers of the National League pennant race.

They held a reception at Sportsman's Park yesterday for the senior circuit leaders and devoured both halves of a double-header to the noisy satisfaction of 40,807 fans, third largest turnout ever to a baseball game in St. Louis.

As a result of their 4 to 2 and 4 to 3 triumphs the Redbirds chiseled Cincinnati's lead to 6½ games, took the "crucial" series two games to one and sent storm warnings skyward all around the league in anticipation of the stretch battle to come.

For the second time this year New York Giants clustered seven home runs in a single game, tying the National League record, as they beat the Phillies 11 to 2 in the first game of the double-header. In the second game capable Carl Hubbell uncovered a four-hit hurling job to win 6 to 2. Roommate Mel Ott helped with his 23rd home run.

Dizzy Dean came out of hiding to give Chicago Cubs their third straight victory over Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 4.

Boston Bees pieced together 30 safeties in sweeping a double bill from Brooklyn Dodgers, 13 to 6 and 8 to 2.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

All the doubleheaders in the American League were split.

A home run by Frank Hayes with two on in the ninth gave Philadelphia Athletics the first game with the New York Yankees, 12 to 9. Then the boys from the Bronx turned right around and won the second, 21-0, behind Red Ruffing's three-hit pitching.

Babe Dalgren and Joe DiMaggio each hit two homers in the second game.

Bob Feller pitched a three-hitter to give Cleveland Indians a 2 to 0 victory over Chicago White Sox, but in the second game Lefty Thornton Lee turned the tables, 3 to 0, on five hits.

Boston Red Sox ran their winning string to seven straight by walloping Washington Senators, 9 to 1, on Fritz Ostermuller's seven-hit pitching, and then lost the second, 6 to 3, in spite of home runs by Ted Williams and Bobby Doerr.

St. Louis Browns outslugged Detroit to take their second straight from the Tigers 11 to 7.

COAST LEAGUE

Hollywood's Stars were twinkling shades brighter today after climbing out of the Coast League baseball cellar with a double-header triumph over the third-place San Francisco Seals.

While Oakland was dropping into the basement by losing a pair to Los Angeles, the Stars moved a half game out of last place by beating the Seals, 2 to 1 and 6 to 3, at Hollywood yesterday.

The first game went 12 innings and was decided by a sharp single by pinch hitter Spencer Harris which scored Wayne Osborne. The game was a pitching duel between Osborne and San Francisco's veteran Win Ballou.

Hollywood won the seven-game series with the Seals, four games to three. The Stars' next foe in their climb from the lower depths will be Oakland.

Ray Prim, Los Angeles pitcher, drove in all three runs as the second-place Angels beat Oakland, 3 to 2, in the first game at Oakland, and in the second game the Angels rallied for five runs in the seventh for a 7 to 5 win.

Los Angeles won the series, four games to three.

Portland won a series from the league-leading Seattle Rainiers by the odd game by splitting a twin bill at Seattle yesterday. Seattle won the opener, 10 to 4, as Dick Barrett pitched his 20th victory of the season, but three Rainier twirlers failed to stop the Beavers as Portland captured the nightcap, 6 to 1.

At Sacramento, the fourth-place Sacramento Senators and San Diego divided homers in a double-header yesterday, 3 to 2 and 7 to 4.

Bill Reedy Is Island Champ

Defeats Mel Dranga After Four Sets in Tennis Final at Duncan

DUNCAN — After a hectic three-hour battle which took four sets to decide, Bill Reedy, Beverly Hills, won the Vancouver Island men's single title here Saturday. The score was 6-1, 8-4, 4-6, 6-4.

The women's singles title was also carried off to California by May Hope Doeg, Santa Monica, after three sets of close tennis in which the Vancouver star, Eleanor Young put up a game battle finally going down at 6-3, 1-6, 7-5.

The strong pair of Reedy and Larry Hall, of Beverly Hills won from Sidaway and Hayden of Vancouver in three straight sets although the score was no indication of the fine game displayed.

Miss Doeg and Cecile Miner of Los Angeles, teamed up to take the women's doubles, while in the mixed doubles, Dr. Esther Bartosh, Los Angeles, and Bill Reedy, were pitted against Hall and May Hope Doeg. In the latter match, the play went through three sets to 11 all when it was so dark the players could not see the ball. The match was decided by tossing a coin, when Dr. Bartosh and Reedy won.

RIGGS CAPTURES TENNIS HONORS

Defeats Frankie Parker In Four Sets to Lift Eastern U.S. Title

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—Bobby Riggs and Frankie Parker engaged in a savage four-set struggle yesterday, with Riggs finally winning 1-6, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5, to capture the eastern grass court tennis championship for the third successive year.

The women's doubles championship was taken by the defending team, Alice Marble of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, Brooklyn, Mass. They conquered Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., and Mary Arnold, Los Angeles, 6-4, 7-5.

Miss Marble successfully defended her singles title yesterday with a 6-4, 6-4 triumph over Mrs. Fabyan.

Riggs came back later to team with Elwood T. Cooke of Portland, Ore., in the doubles final, but their bid for the title failed as the "pick-up" team of Gene Mako and Gardner Muloy came through with a 7-5, 6-8, 6-3, 6-1 victory for the championship.

SCATTER-GUN WINNERS—Second annual British Columbia skeet championship held yesterday by the Victoria Skeet and Gun Club resulted in a pair of Victorians taking major honors. Firing against the best shots in the province Ernie Todd, above, won the British Columbia skeet championship, breaking 97 out of 100 birds. Missing only two clays out of 100 Johnny Wenger, below, captured the special trapshooting event against some of the finest shots in the Pacific Northwest.

'Doc' Smith Winner

Twenty-six-pound 14-Ounce Salmon Wins Honors in Tillicum Club Derby

"Yes, sir, I finally got the one I wanted," was Frank "Doc" Smith's happy exclamation on winning the third annual Tillicum Athletic Club's salmon derby at Brentwood yesterday with a 26-pound 14-ounce "fighter of the deep."

Nearly 450 anglers in boats of every shape, size and description took to the fishing grounds to try their luck in the competition which offered a handsome list of prizes. The weigh-in was held at Moodyville near the ferry wharf at 6 in the evening. The contest started at 6 in the morning.

Doc got the big one on a Sunbeam No. 7 brass spoon around 4:30 in the afternoon. It was his day all right. In addition to the 26-pounder, he came home with three other ones. The first prize was a silver tea service.

A 23-pound-seven-ounce won Gordon Hardy the second prize cutlery set and following close in third was E. F. Smith with a 22-pounder. His prize was a china dinner service.

A silver relish dish was F. Ray's fourth prize, won with a 19-pound-two-ounce fish. D. Dicks was awarded the fifth prize—an electric mantle clock—with an 18-pound-10-ounce catch.

The only member of the "fair sex" to make the prize list was Mrs. D. Lalonde. She took sixth place with a 16-pound-14-ounce salmon, and her prize was a silver casserole.

Four consolation prizes were presented with J. Cummins taking the first, a thermo kit; M. McIntosh the second, a gasoline stove; Dr. D. Berman, the third, a tackle box, and N. Lord the fourth, a flashlight.

Harry Woolston, head of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association, under which the derby was staged, and chairman of the derby committee, was in charge of the event. His committee members were Chuck Kinloch, Faud Ray, Dan Thomas, Ray Ritchie and Fred Freer.

Kinloch started the anglers off and the many boats presented a picture seldom seen on the inlet as they speeded to their favorite fishing spots from the ferry slip to Tod Inlet. A speedboat cruised the waters during the day to pick up competitors who wished to be taken to the weighing scales with their catches.

U.S. TRACK TEAM WINS AT ZURICH

ZURICH, Switzerland—The United States touring track and field team won 12 first places out of a possible 16 in an international meet yesterday.

England took two first places, Switzerland one and one was tied between England and the United States.

The outstanding performance was turned in by Dennis Pell of England who won the 1,500 metres.

House of David Oppose Clowns

Touring Baseball Clubs Play Here Wednesday In Two Exhibitions

Real treat is in store for baseball fans on Wednesday at the Athletic Park when two touring colored teams, House of David and Broadway Clowns, hook up in a pair of games, starting at 2:30 and 6.

In previous meetings this season the clubs have played 11 games, one going 15 innings. Both clubs have already performed here this season in games against the Victoria all-stars.

Tonight at the Athletic Park at 6, Athletics and Pitzer and Nex will battle in the third game of their city championship best-of-seven series. Each team has one win to its credit and will be anxious to win tonight and move on top.

Second division ball nines will open their preliminary play-offs tomorrow evening with two games billed. Navy, first place squad, will be at home to the third berth Cubs at Admirals Road, while Eagles, who finished second in league competition, will battle the fourth place Oak Bay nine at Beacon Hill. Games will start at 6:15.

On Saturday the Broadway Clowns concluded their three-game exhibition series with the Victoria team by winning both tilts 8 to 3 and 10 to 4. In the afternoon game the visitors out-hit Victoria 13 to 7, and in the evening, although out-hit 9 to 7, the Clowns punched out safeties when they most counted. Four Victoria errors helped the Clowns to the nightcap.

Churchmen Win Knockout Final

Defeat Incogs By Two Wickets in Deciding Series at Macdonald Park

By a margin of two wickets and seven runs, Five C's repeated their knockout series victory of last year in Saturday's final against University School Incogs at Macdonald Park.

Hepworth and Jack Payne turned in a smart bowling performance, retiring the Incogs for a total of 99, of which Reg Wenman contributed 23, Derry Tye 27, and Doug Pedem 20.

The churchmen replied with 106 for eight, Eric Quinton, captain, leading the side with 33 not out, including the winning hit, a four. Alan Griffin put on 33 and George Payne 20. R. Holstein took four wickets for 35 in seven overs to lead the Incogs bowlers.

In an exhibition match at Beacon Hill, Victoria defeated the Albions by seven wickets, Macdonald and Brown scoring 56 and 51 respectively for the winning side. E. D. Freeman scored 62 for the losers and Hurn put on 55.

Harbig Shatters 400-Metres Mark

Germany (AP)—Rudolf Harbig, Germany's great middle distance runner from Dresden, bettered the world record for 400 metres Saturday when he was clocked in 46 seconds flat at the Frankfurt jubilee festival track meet.

The time was 1-10th of a second faster than the accepted international mark of 46-1-10 made by Archie Williams of United States in 1936.

The new mark was the second world record hung up by Harbig in recent weeks. At Milan he stepped off the 800 metres in 1:46.6.

Field Day at Shawnigan Lake

Malahat Board of Trade's Event Saturday Attracts Much Interest

Saturday-afternoon at Shawnigan Lake, the Malahat Board of Trade sponsored a field day at the sports grounds which attracted a good deal of interest.

A program of field running, broad and high jump was staged. In addition there were home-cooking and candy stalls set up by the Women's-Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, the Women's Institute and the Catholic Women's League.

The men of the Canadian Legion ran a coconut shy which was well patronized.

In the senior events on the sports card the 100 yards dash was won by N. Willis with Bill Thompson second. George Wilkinson won the high jump and Jim Cousins placed second.

F. Watson won a race staged for men 50 years and over. H. Harwick came in second.

Horseshoe pitching contests were held with H. Miller and J. MacKenzie winning and Miss Nita Luckoritch and Mrs. R. Ross came first and second respectively in the women's nail driving contest.

Later in the afternoon Harknett fuel softballers defeated Lemon Gannon by a score of 11 to 13. Joe Corcoran and H. Slater were the winning team's battery.

A dance was held during the evening with over 350 attending. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gannon won the Malahat Board of Trade Vancouver Island championship waltzing cup.

SARAZEN, GULDAHL AND SHUTE TIE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three of the leading United States professionals—Gene Sarazen, Denny Shute and Ralph Guldahl—battled through heavy showers and treacherous winds yesterday to deadlock with four-day totals of 287 for 72 holes in the $10,000 Dapper Dan open golf championship.

The three were to play 18 holes today for first prize of $2,500, second money of $1,200 and third of $1,000.

ALBERTA SOCCER

EDMONTON (CP)—Boostered by the scoring punch of a young forward line, Edmonton Civics defeated Calgary Calles 5 to 2 here Saturday night in the first game of a two-game total goal series for the senior Alberta soccer championship. The second game will be played at Calgary Saturday.

Smashes 97 Of 100 To Lift Honors

Victoria Shot in Great Form at B.C. Meet; Wenger Winner of Trap Event

Smashing 97 out of 100 clays, Ernie Todd won the second annual British Columbia skeet championship yesterday in the meet staged under the auspices of the Victoria Skeet and Gun Club at Albert Head. J. Robertson, Rossland, and S. Loutet, Vancouver, tied for runner-up position, for B. C. residents, each with scores of 90. Robertson won the tie shoot-off.

By his victory Todd took possession of the fine trophy presented by Lieutenant-Governor Eric Hamber.

With leading scatter-gun artists from the Pacific Northwest taking part, the meet produced some splendid competition and was attended by a large crowd. Weather conditions were perfect.

C. Bock and S. Prey, both of Wenatchee, tied for nonresident high gun, Prey winning the shoot-off and Bock being awarded the runner-up prize.

Other scores were: C. Morton, Yakima, 93; Al Sund, Mount Vernon, 92; H. Holloway, Vancouver, and A. Leopp, Grand Coulee Dam, 89; A. Hibberd, Mount Vernon, 88; R. Hyndman, Vancouver, 86; C. Prey, Wenatchee, 84; H. Nugent, Wenatchee, 82; Dr. A. D. Bechtel, Victoria, 81; R. Lamb, New Westminster, 79; T. Oliver, Ladner, 71, and Mrs. H. Nugent, Wenatchee, 65.

VANCOUVER TEAM WINS

In the 25-target competition, all-gauge, open, for five-man teams, Vancouver emerged victors with 112 points out of 125. Yakima was second with 104; Wenatchee third with 98, and Victoria fourth with 95 points.

Johnny Wenger of Victoria, won the 100 singles event in trapshooting with 98 out of 100. High-gun honors for nonresidents went to C. Bock of Wenatchee, with 92, and the runner-up prize went to C. Prey, also of Wenatchee, with 91 points.

Dr. S. T. Magnuson of Seattle was high-gun for nonresident shooters in both the singles and 50-target handicap trap event, but as the rules allowed but one shooter to receive a prize, he chose the E. D. Todd prize for best score in both events.

Other scores in the singles event follow: Dr. S. T. Magnuson, Seattle, 97; J. S. Robertson, Rossland, 94; J. Bevan, Nanaimo, 93; R. Hyndman, Vancouver, 93; C. Bock, Wenatchee, 92; J. G. Wrean, Ladysmith, 91; C. Prey, Wenatchee, 91; R. B. Horton, Victoria, 91; E. Hasenfratz, Victoria, 90; J. G. Hall, Texas, 90; A. R. Hoy, Vancouver, 89; S. Prey, Wenatchee, 87; H. Hasenfratz, 87; A. Ruckle, Salt Spring Island, 85; F. Munt, Victoria, 82; Dr. Manchester, Wenatchee, 80; P. Gordon, Vancouver, 80; R. C. Gibbs, Vancouver, 64.

HANDICAP EVENT

Victoria Boy Wins

Bob Johnstone Captures Wrigley
Half-mile Swim at Bowen Island Meet

BOWEN ISLAND, B.C. (CP)—Led by 14-year-old Bob Johnstone, Victoria stars captured six of 14 events Saturday in a swimming gala on this Howe Sound island, which was billed as the British Columbia championships.

Johnstone stroked his way over the Wrigley half-mile course for boys under 17 in 12:57 to beat out a fellow-townsmen, Hugh Reston, by three lengths and leave Vancouver's hope, Jack Pomfret, a good 75 yards behind.

Later in the day young Johnstone placed second to Pomfret in the 200-yard freestyle event for boys under 17. Time in this event was 2:27.

Joan Langdon, Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club star, who copped three titles during the day, won the girls-under-17 Wrigley half-mile in 13:47 5/10, outstriking two other Vancouver lassies: Ethel Symes, last year's champion, and Elsie Homersham.

Eleanor Peden topped the Victoria girls' "Y" team with two victories, taking the 440-yard women's freestyle in 7:25 and the 200-yard freestyle event in 2:42 4/10.

In the 440-yard race, Florence Byatt and Eileen Stark, both of Victoria, placed second and third to Miss Peden; while in the 200-yard freestyle, Jean Stanton stroked her way into second place with Miss Byatt capturing third spot.

Stan Peden copped the 150-yard medley for boys under 17 in 1:13 with another Victoria boy, Jack Lamb, taking second place.

Don Davidson, another Capital City entry, won the 100-yard backstroke for men, while Gordon Lawrence, a teammate, clinched the 440-yard freestyle race for men in 5:41. Lawrence nosed out two strong contestants, Terry Macauley, Vancouver, and Len Stark, Victoria.

Ethel Symes beat out two Vancouver girls, Jacqueline Thompson and Betty Evans, to win the 150-yard medley for girls under 17 in 2:10 4/10.

Honors Shared At Auto Races

W. Schock, Los Angeles,
Top Man at Langford
Speedway's Meet

Honors were shared at the Langford Speedway's international automobile racing meet Saturday night with Wally Schock of Los Angeles at the head of the list.

The L.A. pilot walked off with the 20-lap main event, placed first in the first heat race and broke the track record in the time trials. He went the oval in 18 2/5 seconds cutting 1/5 of a second off Swede Linsgkog's record set last season.

Digger Caldwell, Victoria driver, won himself a good deal of honor by equalling the track record set by Schock.

Lou McMurtry, Seattle, was the boy who had the fans really keyed up during the evening. McMurtry turned in one of the finest performances seen around these parts for some time. He had the checkered flag drop for him first in both the second heat race and a match race and hit the finish second to Schock in the main event.

Schock had little trouble winning the feature. He started in the pole position and was able to stay in the lead all the way. It was McMurtry's driving in the event which was nice to watch. He started third with Jimmy Symes, Seattle, in the fifth spot. Fred Carson, Duncan, took the starter's flag in the second position and Joe Moore, Victoria, took off in fourth position.

McMurtry shot by Carson on the first lap to take over second place and Symes opened the throttle on his big No. 1 power plant to take over the third position on the initial lap. Symes, in the faster car, was not able to get by McMurtry during the remainder of the race, with the latter using every trick of the game to hold his position.

As the field went in to the third lap, Moore was holding his own in the fourth position. The trio of American drivers ahead opened things up considerably and Moore, in his efforts to stay with them, lost control and spun madly across the track. Digger Caldwell came up to take over the fourth spot. The event finished in that order... Schock, McMurtry, Symes and Caldwell. The time was 6 minutes 39 seconds.

Schock had the pole position in the five-lap Helmet Dash with Caldwell beside him and Symes in the rear. Although Schock took the lead and was able to hold it all the way, the event was interesting in that Symes came from third to second place and had him worried several times. The time for the event was 1:32 1/5.

The eight-lap first heat race was similar with Schock and Symes finishing first and second respectively and Bert Sutton next in line. The time was 2:26 3/5.

ENGINE EXPLODES
The second lap of the second heat race saw the No. 1 local pilot, Sutton, have his engine explode on him. Sutton was pouring it on coming down the grandstand stretch when his motor rebelled and threw pieces of pistons and engine block, all over the track. The event was rerun.

Caldwell in the pole position, was not able to hold off the offerings of McMurtry who started in second. McMurtry went through with colors flying on the first lap and ended the event in the lead. Caldwell stayed up to finish second and Moore came home third. The time was 2:32.

Moore won the third heat race with Jimmy Wells, Victoria, second. The other two contestants experienced trouble. Laird spun out on the fifth lap and Van-treight driving car No. 81 formerly handled by Buddy Green, had engine trouble all the way. Van-treight will be back in his own car next week. A new engine is being installed. The time for the eight-lap event was 3:40.

The match race of the program was one of the most interesting to watch. Moore started on the pole and held a lead for three laps with McMurtry fighting in second place. McMurtry succeeded finally and shot inside the leader on the fourth lap to finish first. Moore was second and Laird ended up third. The time was 1:36 2/5.

Laird won the fourth heat race over Carson in 2:42.

Next Saturday night's program will see Sutton back in the running according to Jack Smith, part owner with him of the No. 1 machine which blew up. Sutton will be driving Laird's No. 2 job which will be "souped up" considerably with new parts recently procured.

About 200 parts of an automobile are made wholly or partly of plastic.

BIMELECH STRONG DERBY POSSIBLE

Col. Bradley's Colt
Attracts Notice After
Victory at Saratoga

NEW YORK (CP)—It's been a long time between drinks at Churchill Downs for Col. E. R. Bradley, so maybe things are ready to pop his way again.

Of course it's still a far cry from a two-year-old dash to that tough 1 1/4 mile in the derby the following spring, but in the Bimelech the good colonel may be ending that long dry drought he's been going through since Don Meade battled Broker's Tip across in '33.

In winning this third straight race Saturday, the $9,000 winner-take-all special at Saratoga, in a breeze by four lengths, this bay son of Black Gold looked the best of the two-year-old gallopers around today.

The colonel, it may be recalled, has been promising for a long time now that he would have a fifth derby winner before all the checks were in.

Now it's Bimelech, and the way he has won three races by a total of 13 lengths over juveniles as Smart Bet, Last Frontier, Big Flash, and Saturday the erratic Andy K. Flight Command and now what, puts the finger right on him.

Flying 'Y' Team Holds Workouts

The flying "Y" track and field squad will start their regular workout sessions after a few weeks' lay-off, tomorrow evening at 5:30 at the High School campus, Coach Archie McKinnon said today.

The work-outs will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 5:30 and Saturday afternoons at 2:30.

Joe Addison, popular senior star of the team, will be on hand to help with the younger members of the team and anyone interested in running or jumping is invited to turn out with the group.

The main object of the work-outs will be to prepare for the annual meet staged at Nanaimo on Labor Day.

Canadian Title By Single Point in Eastern Meet

ST. MARGARET'S, Que. (CP)—United States swimmers carried off the major share of honors at the Dominion senior outdoor swimming and diving championships here Saturday but a Toronto girl won most of the acclaim.

Florence Humble prevented the United States stars from scoring a grand slam in the events they entered as she raced to a two-yard victory in the 100 yards backstroke event. Her victory was the only one Canadians scored over Americans.

No records were broken in the 12-event meet. A strong wind blew across Lac Masson.

Seven championships went across the border, two to Toronto and the other three to Montreal. Aurel Thomas of Montreal was a double winner for the Canadians, outclassing his opponents in the men's diving and taking the 200-yards breaststroke race.

Thelma Boughner of Toronto, defended her women's diving crown after she and Lynda Adams of Vancouver thrilled the crowd of 500 with superlative exhibitions. So evenly were the two girls matched, only a point separated them when the judges announced the results. Miss Boughner was given 90.86 points and Miss Adams 89.50.

Gordon Castel of Montreal, was the other Canadian winner, scoring easily over Wilf Taylor of Montreal, in the 440 yards freestyle.

In the closest race of the day Gordon Kerr, formerly of Windsor, Ont., but now swimming for Detroit Athletic Club, finished half a yard ahead of Jean Marc Demers of Montreal, in the 100-yards backstroke to defend the title he won here last year.

Marion Borden, Powell River, Loses to Jeanette Dolson in Canadian Meet

HAMILTON, Ont.—Veteran of an Olympiad and a British Empire meet at 21, Jeanette Dolson of Toronto is heading toward another Olympic boat ride to Finland next year. She just about has a sprinter's role all wrapped up.

On the eve of her 21st birthday, Miss Dolson Saturday spread-eagled some classy opposition, including Marion Borden, Powell River, B.C., in the 60 and 100 metres races at the Canadian women's track and field championships in Hamilton's municipal stadium.

Miss Dolson shared the spotlight with two intermediates, Phyllis Lafay of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Nancy Murrall of Toronto, who cleaned up five events between them, and with the individuals and teams who shattered four Canadian records. The marks fell in the junior baseball throw, the intermediate discus throw and the junior and intermediate 400-metre relays.

Miss Dolson beat the British Columbia sprint champion, Miss

Borden, in the 60 and 100 yards in 7.8 and 12.5 seconds respectively.

The wind was an aid half the way around in the relays and a team from Toronto brought the junior 400-metre down 4-10 second to 51.4. Toronto Lakesides took the intermediate record down 1 2-10 seconds to 51.2.

The other records went to Betty Stark of Toronto, who tossed a baseball 204 feet, 6 inches, breaking the old mark for juniors by more than 5 feet, and Jessie Smerdon of Toronto, who upped the intermediate discus mark 2 1/2 inches with a heave of 100 feet, 9 inches.

Grooming themselves for a place on the Olympic team, Miss Lafay and Miss Murrall gave promise of big things when they became seniors. Miss Lafay, who learned to hurdle only this summer, equalled the Canadian record of 13 seconds in winning the 80-metre hurdles from Jessie Stott of Hamilton. She also won the high jump, clearing five feet, and the broad jump with a leap of 16 feet, 4 1/4 inches.

Royal City Mayor's Family Rescued

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Firemen rescued Mayor Fred Hume and his family from their blazing home here early yesterday after the four were trapped in their bedrooms.

Ladders were used to take Mrs. Hume, an invalid, her husband and son and daughter from the second-story room.

"Another two or three minutes in that room would have cost them their lives," Fire Chief J. Watson said. "As it was, they were all suffering from the effects of smoke and fumes."

Mrs. Hume was taken to a hospital, where authorities today reported her condition as "quite satisfactory." Mayor Hume, his 22-year-old son Howard and daughter Dorothy, did not require hospital treatment.

Four men used two ladders in carrying Mrs. Hume to safety.

Fire Chief Watson is investigating the cause of the blaze, which was confined mostly to the cellar. He believes it might have started in a photographic dark room in the basement.

The loss is not expected to be great although the house was filled with smoke at the time.

Mrs. Hume was the first to notice the fire and she awoke her husband and family. She was unable to move from her bed but the others managed to get a window partly open.

R. E. Thatcher Leads

Seattle Veteran Scores Fine 79 in Qualifying Round of Seniors' Golf

R. E. Thatcher, Seattle, with a well-played 79, was leading competitors in the qualifying round of the 17th annual tournament of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association at 2 this afternoon at the Victoria Club. Many of the 159 entrants were still to be heard from, the last foursome teeing off early this afternoon. The entry was two more than last year.

With H. A. (Dixie) Fleager, Seattle, not on hand to defend his association championship, a new titleholder will be crowned Friday morning when the finals in all championships and flights will be played.

When the field got away today the oldest contender was Dr. John E. Weeks of Portland, who is 86. E. J. Roberts, Spokane, is another of the old fellows at 82, while R. W. Gibson, Victoria, 81, is the oldest Canadian taking part.

Match play will open tomorrow morning in the grand championship and the A, A, B, C and D championships and flights.

On Thursday evening the members will gather at the Union Club for their annual dinner.

The entry includes players from Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, New Westminster, Comox, Nanaimo, Spokane, Bellingham, Bellevue, Berkeley Hills, Pendleton, Port Angeles, Walla Walla, Wenatchee and Yakima.

Seattle tops the entry list with 47 players, closely followed by Victoria with 44.

Qualifying-round scores up until 2 follow: R. E. Thatcher, Seattle, 79; L. G. Pattullo, Seattle, 102; C. E. Swaisland, Victoria, 87; F. M. McCulloch, Comox, 83; A. W. Clapp, Tacoma, 90; Curtis Harold, Seattle, 87; W. L. McCulloch, Portland, 81; W. D. Read, Tacoma, 87; C. H. Woodin, Yakima, 81; O. B. Wight, Portland, 82; J. E. Goldring, Victoria, 85; J. W. Ruggles, Victoria, 83; W. P. Remington, Pendleton, 90; R. G. Wright, Seattle, 93; J. J. Dempsey, Tacoma, 91; L. D. Rines, Victoria, 87; T. S. McPherson, Victoria, 84; R. S. Farrell, Portland, 91; H. C. Morris, Victoria, 90; R. D. Merrill, Seattle, 100; J. H. Blood, Seattle, 90; B. S. Helmsman, Victoria, 91; F. B. Carter, Seattle, 91; A. D. Davies, Victoria, 81; W. S. Dirker, Vancouver, 91; T. Cole, Victoria, 103; M. W. McKinney, Seattle, 88; Minot Davis, Tacoma, 102; C. C. Stanier, Victoria, 97; F. C. McAuley, Seattle, 89; C. A. Hart, Portland, 92; Dr. A. J. Garesche, Victoria, 107; J. G. Matthews, Spokane, 91.

BAND CONCERT

Yesterday afternoon's band concert in Beacon Hill Park by the Canadian Scottish Regimental group under the direction of James M. Miller, attracted one of the largest crowds ever assembled for an offering of this kind.

An interesting program was expertly presented by the band with Sergeant E. Michaux and Bandsman W. Davis soloists. The program was presented in two parts.

The first part of the program opened with a march, "Punjab," and this was followed by selection from Cebulka's opera, "Amorita." A Viennese waltz was played and one of A. Pryor's famous polkas, "Exposition Echoes," was presented as a euphonium solo by Sergeant Michaux, followed by "Eileen Alannah" as his second number. "La Ferie," a Spanish suite of three selections was followed by Rossini's overture, "Semiramide," which brought the first section to a close.

"The Works of Moszkowski" opened the second portion of the program which was followed by Bandsman Davis' two clarinet solos, "Cavatina" from "Ernani" and the finale from "La Sonnambula."

A descriptive number depicting a battle scene was played by the band followed by an intermezzo, "La Secret" and a patrol, "The Blue and Grey." The popular "Slavonic Rhapsody" was the last number played.

TOWN TOPICS

A photostatic copy of Toronto's address of fealty to the King and Queen was received by Mayor Andrew McGavin today from Alderman J. M. Innes of that city.

Gun practices, full charge, will be fired from the Esquimalt defences on Wednesday next from 9 a.m. to 12.30 p.m., and on Thursday from 9 a.m. to 12.30 p.m., and from 9.30 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Rev. Gordon A. Skitch, western supervisor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, will speak tonight in the Alliance Tabernacle, Yates Street, at 8, on "A Trip Through Western Canada," telling of his experiences in home missions.

Arnold Masters, who pleaded guilty in the City Police Court last week to two charges of breaking and entering a shop operated by W. J. Cull at Athletic Park, was granted six months' suspended sentence by Magistrate Hall in police court this morning.

Tonight a mass meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 8 to give the public an opportunity to hear prominent citizens express their views on the present move to prevent the shipping from here of any more scrap iron destined for aggressor nations.

Three break-ins were investigated by city police over the weekend. A. Johnson, 1911 Stanley Avenue, reported the bedrooms of his premises ransacked when he arrived home at 10.30 last night. There was nothing missing. Small's Bakery, 757 Fort Street, was entered, but nothing was taken. An attempt was made to enter the Square Deal Hardware, Fort Street.

RURAL OCCUPATION SCHOOLS SUCCESS

Applications Should Be Made Immediately for Schools, Director Says

During the winter season of 1938-39, under the Dominion Provincial Youth Training Plan, directed by the Department of University Extension, 16 rural occupational schools, each of two weeks' duration, were conducted in the province with great success.

The success of the program was largely due to the co-operation of many organizations in the centres where the schools were held, according to Gordon M. Shrum, director of the movement, a local committee was formed in the districts representing the various interests.

If the local committee decides to hold a school during the coming 1939-40 winter season, application should be made at once to the Department of University Extension, University of British Columbia.

The schools are for young men and young women between 16 and 30 years of age, who are not gainfully employed. This includes young people living at home on the farm, or in small rural centres, who are not receiving wages. A minimum registration of 25 young people who will attend regularly, is necessary before a school may be opened.

OIL FIELDS OF TEXAS SHUT DOWN

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Shut-down of Texas oil fields for 15 days effective tomorrow morning was ordered today by the State Railroad Commission.

The commission, which regulates the flow from 80,000 oil wells in the state, decided on the holiday after some major companies had slashed crude prices 20 per cent.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ralph Guidahl of Madison, Wis., won the $10,000 Dapper Dan tournament today by defeating Denny Shute and Gene Sarazen in an 18-hole playoff with a sparkling par 70.

Ottawa Post For MacPherson

B.C. Cabinet Minister to Serve On Transport Board

Resignation of Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, from the B.C. cabinet will be necessary on his appointment as a member of the Board of Transport Commissioners at Ottawa.

An official announcement is expected shortly. In the meantime Mr. MacPherson is preparing to leave tomorrow with Mrs. MacPherson on a month's vacation aboard a cruise liner through the Panama Canal from San Francisco.

In moving to the federal capital Mr. MacPherson will finish a career in this province's public life that began in 1928 when he was elected for Cranbrook as a private Liberal member. He served in Opposition for five years under Hon. T. D. Pattullo, and when the Liberals swept the province in 1933 was appointed to the cabinet post he has held since. Under his regime an energetic program of road building has been carried out, with the funds available, and he laid down an entirely new policy of constructing highways to meet modern travel needs.

If the balance of the cabinet by electoral regions is maintained, a probable choice for the cabinet post made vacant by Mr. MacPherson's resignation would be Capt. C. S. Leary, chief Liberal whip, who sits for Kaslo-Slocan.

The northern part of the province, already represented by the Premier and Hon. W. J. Assestine, Minister of Mines, would not likely receive another cabinet appointment. Vancouver Island has two in the ministry already and so has Vancouver, with a third in the Fraser Valley. Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, is the only other minister from the interior region and Mr. MacPherson's departure would leave the Kootenays without cabinet representation. That is why Capt. Leary is regarded as the probable choice for a cabinet vacancy.

Want Action On Garbage Issue

Chamber of Commerce Directors Ask City Council To Remedy Nuisance

With a request that action be taken to remedy the condition, directors of the Chamber of Commerce, at their luncheon in Spencer's dining-room today, referred to the City Council resolutions calling the city's attention to the garbage conditions in the Inner Harbor and city beaches.

Photographs, showing debris in the harbor, were circulated at the meeting prior to the introduction of the resolutions by the retail merchants and tourist trade groups of the chamber.

R. H. B. Ker asked if the committees were certain the refuse was from the city garbage scow. The contract covering its dumping specified that it should be taken out a certain distance before it was tipped, he said.

On the beaches, it was definitely garbage from the city's scow, George MacDonald stated. The directors received with approval reports of the tourist trade group on the activities of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team at the San Francisco Exposition and on the popularity accorded the tele-scopes erected in Beacon Hill Park to provide views of Mars.

A petition from independent taxi operators asking the chamber for assistance in curbing the alleged "touting" activities of certain taxi and sight-seeing agents at the Inner Harbor wharf, was referred to the City Council without comment. Some of the directors thought the agents were merely showing their initiative. Others thought they were making an unnecessary noise.

Reporting for the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Conway Parrott stated Victoria would send delegates to the national junior chamber convention in Calgary early next month. He also said the junior group hoped to sponsor an automobile show early in the fall.

The local directors made plans to greet the Vancouver Board of Trade party due here a week tomorrow at an informal gathering in the Empress Hotel.

D. L. Macdonell, reporting on the swine breeders' picnic at Albert Head two weeks ago, declared the province could increase by 400 per cent its production of hogs before glutting the domestic market.

G. Hamilton Harman was appointed delegate to the Pender Island Fair on Wednesday.

Sir Percy Everett, Kt., M.A., F.F.F., Deputy Commissioner of the Imperial Association of Boy Scouts, will arrive in the city on Friday morning. He will lunch at the Canadian Club luncheon in the afternoon and in the evening he will address a meeting of scouters, presidents and secretaries of troop committees and members of the executive of the Victoria Scouts' Association. A general invitation has been extended to Girl Guides. The meeting will be held at the district headquarters of the Scouts at 1034 Johnson Street at 8.

Obituaries

MRS. E. L. HILL DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

After a long illness, Mrs. Jennie Hill, wife of E. L. Hill of 29 Gorge Road, died yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital, aged 72 years. Born in Bolton, Ont., Mrs. Hill held a B.A. from the University of Toronto, and a M.A. from the University of Alberta. She came here with her family three years ago from Edmonton where Mr. Hill was superintendent of schools for many years, and where she gave many years of public service, as a member of the Edmonton school board, on the board of the Royal Alexandra Hospital; for five years president of the Local Council of Women, and national convener of economics for the National Council of Women. Before her marriage she taught mathematics at the Moulton Ladies' College in Toronto.

Mrs. Hill leaves her husband and one daughter, Miss Esther Marjorie Hill, at home; one brother, Fred Stork, former M.P. for Skeena, now in Brampton, Ont., and three sisters, Nancy Stork and Mrs. Elizabeth Blaisdell of London, Ont., and Mrs. M. C. Foley of Hamilton.

Private funeral services will be held in the Sands Mortuary Chapel tomorrow afternoon at 3.30, Rev. G. A. Reynolds officiating, after which the remains will be cremated at Royal Oak Crematorium.

MUIR—Funeral services for Mrs. Caroline Hemington Muir were held on Saturday at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiating. Interment was in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

ROACH—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ann Roach of this city were conducted Saturday afternoon in the chapel of the Sands Mortuary Limited. Many friends attended the service, which was conducted by Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick. Interment was in the family plot in the Colwood Burial Park.

McROBERTS—Miss Minnie McRoberts died Saturday in the Royal Jubilee Hospital. Born in Ontario, Miss McRoberts had been a resident of Victoria for 25 years. She is survived by one nephew, Dr. J. McRoberts, Detroit, Mich. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Sands Mortuary Ltd.

DELAMERE—Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Delamere were held Saturday afternoon in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, Rev. F. R. G. Dredge officiating. Interment was in the family plot in Royal Oak Burial Park. The pallbearers were: Charles C. Creagh, Clarence Abbott, John Wallace and Cameron Wallace.

Convicted On Theft Counts

On two charges of theft, one involving an automobile and the other a quantity of groceries and wearing apparel, Robert Watson, was convicted in the City Police Court this morning by Magistrate Hall. He was remanded until tomorrow morning for sentence.

Watson was arrested by Constable Louis Callan in the city at 8.30 one evening, an hour and a half before Richard Laird reported the theft of his car. The other stolen property was found in the car when he was apprehended by Constable Callan.

A lengthy record of previous convictions was read against Watson.

The advertising campaign of the city lands department, conducted during recent months in local newspapers, is reaching far afield. An inquiry over certain properties was received by the lands commissioner today from Lausanne, Switzerland, as a direct result of the newspaper advertising. The inquiry asked information on taxes, living costs and rental possibilities.

SEAL ELECTION FACT—Hon. W. D. Herridge, leader of the New Democracy Party (left) and Premier William Aberhart of Alberta, Social Credit's generalissimo, made Canadian political history recently when they joined forces to wage a united fight in the coming federal elections. The two posed for this picture on the steps of the legislative building at Edmonton, after admitting that they would go into the election on a "new deal" ticket.

'Devil's Party' Comes to Plaza
Realistic Drama of Big City Life Stars Victor McLaglen

Highlighting the adventurous life history of five pals who emerge from one of the toughest districts in New York, Universal's "The Devil's Party" comes to the Plaza Theatre today with Victor McLaglen starring in one of his famous he-man roles.

Adapted for the screen from a novel by Borden Chase, this picture delineates the enduring friendships and fierce loyalties that develop among kids who grow up together in a gritty city. One of these youths in manhood becomes a wealthy and ruthless night club proprietor, a part played by the brawny McLaglen. Romance, ambition and even the shadow of crime, engulf one or another of them as they fight for place and prestige in the world, but in the end the enduring ties of friendship bind them together.

Beautiful Beatrice Roberts, Paul Kelly, William Gargan, Frank Jenks, John Gallaud, Edward Gargan and Joe Downing have important roles.

'King of Turf' Oak Bay Film
Adolphe Menjou Plays Double Role in Small's Racing Drama

When Edward Small's new romantic film drama, "King of the Turf," has its showing at the Oak Bay Theatre today it will present Adolphe Menjou in a screen characterization which shows him first as a down-and-out of the lower fringes of humanity and then as one of the most spectacular and colorful figures of the emerge from one of the toughest racing and gambling world. The film also introduces to screen audiences 15-year-old Roger Daniel, who is being hailed in Hollywood as the screen find of the year. Daniel was selected for the important role of the jockey after Small completed one of the most thorough and painstaking talent hunts known in the film city. "King of the Turf" was directed by Alfred C. Green, and its story is told against such exciting backgrounds as world-famous racetracks, smart turf and jockey clubs, swanky bars, casinos and cafes and fashionable resort colonies.

'Cowboy and Lady' On Columbia Bill
Gary Cooper and Merle Oberon in Goldwyn Feature

A rearing team-of-four hauls a careening stage coach across a dusty arena. Two stately white percherons step proudly in front of a menial waterwagon. Two roughriding Cossacks and a white-skirted cowgirl stand in the dust discussing the weather. A rider rushes past on a white mount, to be caught unerringly in the loop of a champion lassoer and tumbled into the dust. . . . Altogether, on the screen, this scene from Samuel Goldwyn's "The Cowboy and the Lady," co-starring Gary Cooper and Merle Oberon showing at the Columbia Theatre today, will occupy a few seconds of your time. Someone in the audience who turns his head or blinks will miss it. Yet, in the shooting, it involved several score extras and an amazing amount of properties and background details.

SUGAR CO. SOLD
QUEBEC—Directors of Acadia Sugar Refining Company have concluded negotiations for its sale of Anglo-Dutch Sugar Refining Company Limited, James McGregor Stewart, K.C., of Halifax, president of the 40-year-old Nova Scotia concern, announced here today.

Terms of the sale are subject to approval of Acadia shareholders at meetings August 28 and September 13. . . . "The sale is a complete sale," Stewart declared. "None of the present directors has or will have the slightest interest in the purchasing company. Operations after the sale will be conducted with entirely new capital."

Gay Nineties Show at Atlas
Jeanette MacDonald
Old-fashioned Girl In 'Broadway Serenade'

Anyone desirous of staging a Gay Nineties party will find some novel ideas in the entertainment staged in the new Jeanette MacDonald starring picture, "Broadway Serenade," now at the Atlas Theatre.

Jack Dawn, who thought up the party ideas, offered as favors large hats fashioned from inexpensive straw and utilizing pampas grass for plumes in the true Gibson Girl manner. The favors for men consisted of paper mache brown derbies and handle-bar moustaches.

The Gay Nineties Cafe sequence occurs early in the film and finds Jeanette MacDonald singing old-fashioned illustrated songs. The new musical, produced by Robert Z. Leonard, has a supporting cast including Lew Ayres, Frank Morgan, Ian Hunter, Rita Johnson, Virginia Grey, William Gargan and Franklin Pangborn.

Bobby Breen in 'Way Down South'

Heading away from the classical, semi-classical and popular type of songs which he has vocalized in his previous starring pictures, Bobby Breen turns to the lush and beautiful melodies of the negro spiritual in his current film, "Way Down South," coming Monday to the Dominion Theatre.

Among the favorite spirituals voiced either by Bobby, the choir or with their combined talents are: "Nobody Knows de Trouble I See," "Peter, Go Ring Dem Bells," "Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray," "Send One Angel Down," "Oh, Dem Golden Slippers" and "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child."

CAPITOL THEATRE

An act of outstanding novelty is being presented four times daily on the Capitol Theatre stage in Aussie, the boxing kangaroo. Aussie and his trainer, Lindsay Fabre, have appeared with success in the principal London night clubs and theatres and were an enormous hit at George Selridge's London garden party which the King and Queen attended. As a stage attraction, it is a unique novelty, comprising that diverting type of entertainment appreciated by old and young alike.

The screen attraction showing in conjunction with this animal stage act is "The Unexpected Father," featuring Baby Sandy and Mischa Auer.

Russian Fleet to Cross Pacific

Seven of 20 Ships
Completing Coaling
At Union Bay Bunkers

COURTENAY—Tomorrow or Wednesday seven Soviet Russian vessels which have been loading bunker coal at Union Bay, after completing the long voyage from Leningrad via the Panama Canal, will sail on their way across the Pacific to Vladivostok, Siberia. Thirteen other ships flying the Soviet flag, making a total of 20, are shortly expected by the Canadian Colliers at Union Bay.

The Russian fleet is one of the most unusual ever seen in British Columbia waters, consisting as it does of three freighters, Volkov, Ladoga and Svir; three deep-sea tugs, Serpukhov, Truhenik and Sarga, and one drifter, Nava. Together they are taking aboard 2,500 tons of coal.

Few of the total of 106 persons aboard the ships talk English and none were willing to discuss details of the voyage. The voyage started four months ago, the ships engaging in routine trading along the way.

Crews are distinctively Russian in that women are included in the personnel. Of the 12 feminine seafarers, one is a physician, two are wireless operators, one is a cashier in charge of payrolls, and eight are stewardesses and cooks.

"Let Canadian Pacific do the driving!"

GOES TO VANCOUVER—H. Bryan Renwick, well-known Victoria boy, left today for Vancouver to join the staff of the United Airlines. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Renwick, Linden Avenue, and was born in Victoria, where he attended public school and the University School and later went to the University of British Columbia. For the last seven years he has been an accountant with the Provincial Public Works Department. His father, now retired, was formerly with the Provincial Lands Department.

Around the Docks

DEPERE FLOATED, COMING SOUTH

Salvage of the Alaska Steamship Company's freighter Depere, which was beached north of Petersburg, Alaska, after striking a rock pinnacle in Wrangell Narrows, has been effected by Salvage King, and will leave Juneau tonight for Seattle, according to the Pacific Salvage Company.

The Depere, conveyed by the Salvage King, is scheduled to reach Seattle on Friday. Both the forward holds of the Depere were flooded and the Victoria salvage crew under William Jordan patched the hull preliminary to refloating after part cargo had been discharged.

Freighter Completes Here for Britain

Docking at Ogden point at 10.40 last night, British freighter Chulmleigh was today taking aboard some 300,000 feet of lumber to complete her cargo for the United Kingdom. She is expected to get away some time tonight for sea.

Ss. Norman Monarch, which has been at the Canadian National docks since Thursday last, is scheduled to clear about 6 tonight for Vancouver.

Ship Air Express

It is now possible to ship express by air from Victoria to England, according to information received this morning at the local office of the Canadian National Railways.

Parcels and other express matter will be received at the local C.N.R. office up to August 15, when it will leave over Trans-Canada Air Lines for connection at Boucherville, Quebec, two days later with an Imperial Airways plane for the voyage across the Atlantic to Europe.

Big Yacht Visits

The former John Barrymore yacht Infanta is in Victoria today, under another name. She is the Polaris and is owned by Edward Lowe Jr. of Juneau, Alaska.

Mr. Lowe purchased the palatial yacht in New York through a second party and is returning north after spending several months on the Mexican and California coasts fishing.

Polaris is 255 feet long and her twin-diesels of the 550 horsepower. Capt. W. E. Wingo is the vessel's skipper.

The Polaris will leave the Inner Harbor sometime today for Juneau.

MALAHAT, SAANICH INDIANS WINNERS

COUPEVILLE (AP)—The Salmon Arm, big war canoe from Malahat, B.C., found its speed in the final race of the annual Indian water carnival here, winning the championship event, a $110 cash prize and a gold cup for its crew. Sam Thomas was captain of the winning boat.

The Question Mark of Cole Bay, Saanich, B.C., which won the preliminary race, was second Sunday, and the Flying Cloud, from the Upper Skagit, was third. Others finished, Susie Q, La Conner; Standing Cloud, Harrington; Saanich; West Saanich, and Rainbow, Snoqualmie.

The celebration included Catholic rededication services for a cross erected by Indians here 100 years ago during the first visits of white missionaries.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fractional gains were registered by wheat futures prices after a dull session on Winnipeg grain exchange today. Support was light but proved sufficient to absorb the light offerings and at the close quotations were 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher October at 51, November and December 52 1/2, and May 55 1/2 cents.

Overseas interests made scattered purchases, although it was not expected export sales for the day would exceed 100,000 bushels. Apart from a little domestic buying in oats and barley, coarse grain trading was uninteresting. Cash wheat transactions were negligible.

A decrease in stocks afloat to Europe, together with the fact that a larger share of the clearances are directed to Continental European countries, counter-balanced Argentine wheat hedging and left Liverpool unchanged to 1/2 off after a comparatively steady session. Buenos Aires was unchanged.

Stocks of wheat afloat to Europe were estimated at 28,212,000 bushels at the finish of last week. This was considerably less than the 31,416,000 bushels at the conclusion of the previous seven-day period and 37,856,000 bushels a year ago.

Country marketings reached 290,000 bushels against 695,000 for the corresponding day a year ago.

CHICAGO (AP)—After scoring gains of almost a cent a bushel, the wheat market reacted partially today but held some of the advance.

Prospects that a substantial portion of this season's crop will be tied up under loans tended to support the market. Millers also were reported buyers and a statement attributed to the Canadian federal minister of agriculture that deterioration the past two weeks has reduced the Dominion's crop encouraged some purchasing.

Wheat closed 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher than Saturday, September 65 1/2 to 65 1/4, December 64 1/2 to 65; corn 1/4 to 1/2 lower, September 43 1/2 to 43 1/4, December 42 1/2 to 43 1/4, oats 1/4 lower.

London Market

LONDON (AP)—Stock market prices were fairly well maintained despite the Danzig question, which was mainly responsible for limited interest. Transatlantic stevedores after opening below parity levels, British funds held even while Roumanian issues improved slightly. Ashes showed lower. Rubbers and Kaffirs firmed a bit. Industrials displayed drooping tendencies.

Steel Picture Rosy; Stocks Up

NEW YORK (AP)—A little better tone to the foreign news, coupled with continuance of pleasing business prospects at home, helped plant gains of fractions to around two points in today's stock market.

Modest buying in virtually all categories made its appearance after a hesitant first hour. Volume was slack throughout, however, with transfers approximately 600,000 shares. Profit-taking near the close reduced top marks in many cases.

One of the best performances was given by steels after the estimate of the American Iron and Steel institute that this week's mill operations would jump two points to 62.1 per cent of capacity, a peak figure since November 14 last.

Much of the day's stock turnover was accounted for by several low-priced issues. Blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares of Commonwealth and Southern and Seaboard Airline changed hands. The former was about even, but the latter dropped from 50 cents to around 25 cents a share, a new year's low. Left again was a lively actor on the upside.

Favored the greater part of the session were Bethlehem Steel, National Steel, Chrysler, U.S. Rubber, American Can, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, U.S. Gypsum, Lowe's Kennecott, Great Northern, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Phelps Dodge, Pacific Gas, Texas Corp. and Consolidated Edison.

In a mixed Canadian group, fractional gains were scored by C.P.R. and Dome. Distillers and Lake Shore slipped back while most others, including Dominion 4s in the bond market, were unchanged.

Down Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 Industrials	104.18, up 1.76
20 rails	28.56, up .21
15 utilities	26.61, up .25
40 bonds	89.87, up .22

Total sales, 550,000.

OUT OUR WAY—

Spanish Moss Is An "Air Plant"

Yesterday I told about the strange life history of the Rose of Jericho, and the clever way the seeds are kept in pods until a new rainy season comes. Hardly less clever is the traveling of seeds of Spanish moss. This plant, despite its name, is not a true moss. It is—of all things!—classified as a relative of the pineapple! The name of "Spanish moss" has been given to it, however, and no doubt will live for centuries to come.

A tree with Spanish moss.

From the Spanish moss, light, hairlike seeds come forth. The wind picks them up and carries them far and wide. Sooner or later they come to rest, very likely on the branch of a tree.

If the seeds fall on the ground they do not sprout in the soil. They are "air plants," and need a resting place above the ground.

Spanish moss is common in many southern parts of the United States. Often it is draped about the trees of an entire woods, making the woods seem like a fairyland.

Spanish moss does not take its food from the tree on which it rests. It has leaves of a sort, and they make their own food. The plants can grow only where there is a warm climate, and a good supply of rain.

Resting on the bark of a tree, the plant grows larger and larger, until at last it may hang down for many inches on each side of the branch. It takes on a silver-grey shade, which explains a name sometimes used for it—"old man's beard."

Spanish moss is gathered for use as a filler in boxes of goods which are shipped from place to place. Another use is as a stuffing for cushions and mattresses.

A mattress stuffed in this way is not very good, but it can be sold cheaply.

In the temperate zone, the pretty flowering plants known as orchids take root in the soil, but in hot, damp parts of the tropics they often follow a history very much like Spanish moss. In other words, they are "air-fed," and need no food from the soil. They grow on branches and trunks of trees, also on rocks.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, August 15, 1939

Adverse planetary aspects rule the early hours today and extend through the afternoon. In the evening Saturn wields a kindly influence.

There is a sign of evil portent presaging mental unrest affecting all classes. Vague apprehensions of future dangers may paralyze individual effort.

Investment in new enterprises is likely to be fortunate, but capital will be timid, despite promise of a prosperous autumn. Confidence should be sought through careful investigation and preparation.

Commerce will improve. Stars smile on romance which will not be confined to the young. The seers prophesy many marriages among persons of middle age.

Solitude will be less endurable than in the past, it is foretold, and there will be a strong tendency to seek companionship. The stars will guide elderly bachelors and widows towards matrimony. Industry will be greatly stimulated as the month advances. Foreign trade is to expand as closer international relations are achieved between British and United States interests.

This evening is auspicious for entertaining friends. Small groups will enjoy pleasant companionship that may result in business or professional profit.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of prosperity, success and development. These subjects of Leo should use their talents tirelessly. Women may expect good fortune.

Children born on this day probably will be determined to the point of obstinacy, definite in their ideas and difficult to guide. Although they may appear too assured of their own ability, they are usually able to realize large ambitions.

The secret of silk leaked out in 552 A.D., when two Persian monks visiting China, concealed silkworms' eggs and mulberry leaves in a hollow staff and smuggled them into their own country.

ANSWER: Canaries are extremely sensitive to foul air. They quickly succumb if poisonous gases are present, thus warning miners of impending danger.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

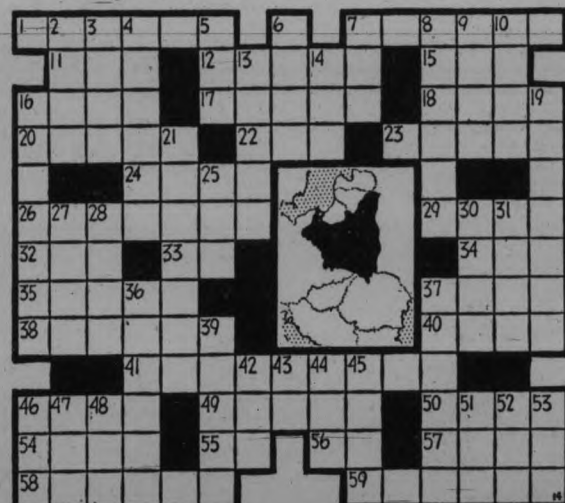

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been going steady for two years with the same man. Several of my girl friends tell me that I am doing wrong by this and that I should be going with many different young men and thus have a wider selection when ready for marriage. The women I work with, who are, incidentally, old maids, tell me that if I have a man whom I like that I shouldn't be such a dumb fool as to let him go, as he may be my only chance for marriage. I enjoy the company of this man very much, agree with him on almost every subject and expect exactly the same things from life. Also I find myself very much dependent upon him for various things. And if that isn't love I hope I will know it when I meet it. What would you do about this situation: Keep on going with a man who will not accept you on any other than a steady basis? Or drop the steady fellow with hopes of other dates? Or keep going with my steady for the next five years, which would make a total of seven years to be going with one person, and then consider marriage? After such a time such a romance will either have withered and died or be more or less a permanent thing. What do you think?

Answer: Somebody has described the custom of "going steady" as being in a state of suspended animation. That seems to me a good definition, because it is neither love nor freedom; it is neither a betrothal nor a casual companionship.

It is the most unfair arrangement that there can be between men and women, because it doesn't give a girl a fair break. The man usurps the right to monopolize her time and attention and keep all eligible men away from her during her marriageable years, but he doesn't agree to marry her himself. Whenever he likes he can kiss and ride away and she is left lamenting.

I think that any girl who "keeps company" with a man who hasn't given her an engagement ring is just lacking in natural gumption.

SUED—Holly actress Susan Hayward will probably look more sorry than placid if Walter Thornton collects that $100,000 he is suing her for. Thornton, head of a New York model bureau, says he was responsible for her fame as a model, which resulted in a screen contract, and is entitled to 10 per cent of the $1,000,000 she'll make in the movies.

STOWAWAYS TRAPPED BY GAS—Last year several stowaways died in the belly of a ship when fumigators of the United States Public Health Service came aboard and sprayed hydrocyanic acid into the hold. The Brazilian aliens pictured above were more fortunate. Recently when fumigators sprayed acid into the false bottom of the freighter Ayuruoca these stowaways, nearly overcome by gas, tapped for help and were dragged from the ship just in time.

ANNOYS PUBLICITY BUREAU—During the calm, still days of the last two weeks the Inner Harbor basin has been filled with boards, old papers, tin cans and bottles, as shown in the above picture. Yachts coming to anchor had to plow their way through the refuse. The tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce are studying the matter to see if something cannot be done to stop refuse floating into the harbor.

This picture shows a scene of the harbor when the tide went out and a wind came up, clearing the waters and making the basin attractive again.

WHERE FEAR STALKS—Though repressive regulations to combat terrorism in Palestine have been somewhat relaxed, tension is still high, as this picture of Tel Aviv in midafternoon shows. The broad streets are deserted, and guards gather to converse on an intersection as one of their trucks approaches.

SIGN OF CHANGING TIMES—Not so long ago an army needed men who could drill and shoot, and the training was done by brass-throated "non-com's" of terrifying demeanor. Now it needs skilled mechanics and artisans to operate and maintain its complex equipment, and the instructors are mild-mannered schoolmasters. Here a boy at the British Army Technical School at Darnley, Chatham, where boys qualify for army technicians' posts, learns tool-setting under the eye of a sergeant whose spectacles are adjusted to the proper schoolmasterly angle.
